Study by Neutrals Asked for Pueblo

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean news agency said today that the United States has proposed to North Korea that the Pueblo crew be turned over to neutral nations for an investigation to determine whether they violated North Korean waters.

The Dongwha news agency quoted diplomatic sources as saying that the United States wants the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea to conduct the investigation.

U.S. authorities would not confirm the report. In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said on Wednesday that the United States made "certain proposals" to North Korea concerning the captured intelligence ship and her crew on May 28, but so far North Korea has not responded.

The Dongwha report said the United States also told North Korea it would express "regrets" to the Communist government if the investigation by neutral nations proved that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

The North Korean Communist party's newspaper, Rodong Shinmoon, accused the United States today of stepping up its war efforts in Korea after the Pueblo was seized Jan. 23. But a broadcast of the article made no mention of the new U.S. proposals.

The Pueblo incident helped to touch off another U.S.-North Korean clash in Communist Poland, where the U.S. government temporarily closed its exhibit at the Poznan International Trade Fair to protest anti-American displays in the North Korean pavilion.

U.S. officials objected to photographs showing the crew of the Pueblo marching with their hands in the air, an officer of the ship allegedly signing a confession of guilt, and destroyed U.S. equipment and dead soldiers from the Korean war of the early 1950s.

The U.S. Embassy said it had complained to fair authorities, the Ministry of Foreign Trade and the Foreign Ministry but to no avail.

Senate, Assuming Passage Of Surcharge, Schedules Its Own Voting for Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears to have a safe but not overwhelming margin for passage as it comes before the House for a vote after a year of controversy and delay.

The Senate, anticipating House approval today, has scheduled its own vote Friday.

If the anticipated script is followed, everyone in the country who now has federal income tax deducted from his paycheck will find the tax bite 10 per cent bigger in about three weeks.

That means a worker now having $50 per week withheld for income tax would have $55 withheld until next June and possibly longer.

Still Dissatisfied

Johnson Signs 'More Good Than Bad' Anticrime Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crime control bill bearing Congress' first authorization of wiretapping, provisions limited Supreme Court rulings on criminal confessions and restrictions on the sale of guns, has been signed by President Johnson.

The bill contains "more good than bad," the President said Wednesday night as he signed the measure barely four hours after it would have become law if he had not acted.

"I believe that it is in America's interests that I sign this out change 368-17 and sent it to law," he said, although he warned against the wiretapping provisions leading to the United States becoming "a nation of snoopers."

Johnson was urged to veto the bill by its opponents, who argued parts were unconstitutional and unwise. But congressional leaders predicted a veto would have been overridden.

The Senate passed the bill 72-4 and sent it to the House and an apparent rewriting in a conference committee when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot June 5 before it would have become law.

Kennedy's death the next day, the House passed the bill with the White House.

The new law's major provisions:

—Establish a five-year program of federal grants to improve the training and equipment of state and local police and to develop new crime fighting techniques.

$100 Million

Appropriations of $100 million are authorized to finance the program for the current year and another $300 million for the second year. The amount of federal aid in subsequent years is left open.

—Make confessions admissible as evidence in federal criminal trials if voluntarily given and also eyewitness testimony on the identification of suspects in police lineups—in effort to overturn controversial Supreme Court decisions.

—Authorizes wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping by law enforcement officers, acting under court orders, in the investigation of a long list of specified crimes.

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and also their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and to people under 21.

Arms Possession

—Make illegal the possession of any firearms by felons, mental incompetents, aliens illegally in the country, Americans who have renounced their citizenship and veterans who receive other than an honorable discharge.

—Bar from federal employment for five years anyone convicted of inciting or taking part in a riot or other civil disorder or of any riot-connected felony.

—Require Senate confirmation of future directors of the FBI appointed by the President.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who steered the bill through the Senate, said "its basic features are vital to the war on crime."

The legislation, as first passed by the House last year, was limited to what Johnson called his safe streets program of federal aid to strengthen local law enforcement. All the rest was added in the Senate.

'Some Movement' in Talks Noted by Clifford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today there is "some movement" in the apparently stalemated Paris peace talks between the United States and North Vietnam.

On the question of negotiations, the defense secretary, who is one of President Johnson's top advisers on Vietnam war policy, indicated he expects some real progress in working out a solution when the negotiators get into private talks.

He appeared to discount the value of the formal sessions, in which both sides have exchanged charges and demands and appeared to be giving virtually no ground.

Other Matters

On other matters, Clifford:

—Said "I'm not persuaded" that there were any North Vietnamese helicopters in the Demilitarized Zone area of South Vietnam.

He said he has sent questions to commanders there in an attempt to clear this up.

—Said that, despite intensified enemy offensive activity in South Vietnam, he does not believe his commanders there will ask for more U.S. troops beyond the presently planned 550,000.

—Indicated that as long as there is any hope that the North Vietnamese will eventually reciprocate, he believes President Johnson will not restore full-scale bombing of North Vietnam.

Vietnamese Army

—Estimated that by the end of next year South Vietnam "will have a well-trained, well-drilled, effective army" of a million men.

—Reported that "we have not gotten anywhere yet" in 17 meetings with North Korean representatives on the question of regaining the captured intelligence ship Pueblo and freeing its crew of 82 men. But "I continue to have hope."

He acknowledged the signs of progress may be slight, but said that "I believe that both sides are there to try to arrange an ultimate disposition to the conflict."

The defense secretary reported, at the same time, that the North Vietnamese are pumping in replacements for men lost in combat in South Vietnam at a high level while the talks are going on.

Reporting at a news conference, he said that infiltration in May is estimated to have totaled about 29,000 men from North Vietnam into South Vietnam.

This is about double the figures used by Gen. William C. Westmoreland for infiltration in April.

Clifford said about 26,000 of these may infiltrators were believed to be replacements for men who have fallen in battle.

Full Year Now Required for Combat Pilots

Fliers Previously
Were Sent Home
After 100 Missions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today that all pilots flying combat runs against North Vietnam will have to serve a full 12 months of duty, rather than leaving as soon as they complete 100 missions.

An Air Force spokesman said the action was taken to eliminate inequities between pilots who fly missions against North Vietnam and those who operate against targets only in South Vietnam.

Under the old system, the Air Force said, "some aircrew members were allowed to return from Southeast Asia upon completion of 100 combat missions over North Vietnam."

10 Months

Most pilots have been able to do this in about 10 months, the Air Force said, but there have been flyers who finished their duty in as little as eight months.

On the other hand, Air Force crewmen flying solely against targets inside South Vietnam had to serve a full year of combat duty, the usual length of time for most U.S. troops in the war, regardless of the number of missions, which sometimes mounted to 300.

The Air Force denied the new order has anything to do with a pilot shortage, but it appeared obvious that extending the tour would slow down personnel rotation and thus relieve the pressure to provide replacements.

The old system allowing pilots to leave the war zone after 100 missions regardless of time was not make the full cuts and apparently it won't the president must hold back expenditures to come up to the figures spelled South Vietnam.

Extension Possible

As the bill is written, the surtax would expire June 30, 1969, but its principal architect, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has already raised the possibility of an extension if the nation cannot put its financial house in order by then.

Besides the income tax surcharge, the bill continues the excise tax on automobiles at 7 per cent and on telephone service at 10 per cent. Under the old law, they dropped to 2 per cent and 1 per cent respectively. The bill also provides a speedup of corporation tax collections.

The combined effect of the changes is estimated at a $15.2 billion revenue increase for the next fiscal year.

Other Legislation

Appropriations also are to be cut $10 billion under the budget estimates for the year and actual spending reduced $6 billion. Appropriations and spending do not match in any single year because of the stretchout of spending programs. If Congress does not make the full cuts and apparently it won't the president must hold back expenditures to come up to the figures spelled South Vietnam.

U.S. Fighting Hard Trying to Update Hanoi's Idea of World Opinion on War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The U.S. delegation at the Vietnam talks in Paris is facing a tough, uphill struggle as it tries to convince North Vietnamese leaders that they are misreading American and world opinion.

If it succeeds at all, the delegation may be at the job for the rest of the summer.

The Americans appear convinced that the major reason for the deadlock is that North Viet-

Leaders See Triumph In 'Solidarity Parade'

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — By the yardsticks of the men who planned it, the 1968 march on Washington was a triumphant show of support for the Poor People's Campaign.

With little more than 10 days in which to organize "Solidarity Day," leaders Wednesday brought out an outpouring of black and white Americans, estimated by Washington police at 50,000, to surge around the foot of the Lincoln Memorial.

The crowd stood in the sun and shined and heard campaign chief The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy vow to keep Resurrection City, the Shantytown set up to house the Poor People demonstrators, in Washington with or without the government permit that expires Sunday night.

"Some of you may go home," Abernathy roared to the approval of the crowd, "but the rest of us are staying here, ready to go to jail."

March Orderly

The marchers, 10,000 more than campaign leader's predicted, representing all ages, races and creeds, were orderly and peaceful. There proved to be no need for most of the 4,300 police and National Guardsmen detailed throughout the city.

It was the second time in five years that tens of thousands of Americans marched on the nation's capital to back up demands that the government end what they considered a fundamental injustice.

In 1963, when the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. made his famous "I have a dream" speech, the issue was segregation, and three months of planning brought 200,000 people to stand along the banks of the Lincoln Memorial reflecting pool.

Wednesday the issue was different—an end to poverty and the difference was heard in the tone of the speeches, many bitter and accusatory.

End War

The massed thousands again shouted their approval to a plea by Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the man who conceived Wednesday's march, to end the Vietnam fighting, "the most brutal and evil war in history," and pour its costs into a total war against poverty.

The demonstrators carried hundreds upon hundreds of signs: "UAW Supports Bold Action to Abolish Poverty in this Land of Plenty," "A Decent Job at Decent Pay," "Full Employment and Guaranteed Annual Income," "We march with John, Bobby and Martin for a Dream."

California Democrats Continue Their Feud

No Indication Kennedy Supporters Are Ready to Back McCarthy or Humphrey

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

SAN FRANCISCO — Shortly after Robert F. Kennedy was buried, a discreet and cautious effort was made to bind up the Kennedy and Humphrey wings of the California Democratic party. It was a total flop.

That failure underlines the state of affairs in the Democratic party today. Far from producing a truce of sorrow, the murder of Kennedy has not narrowed the party's deep divisions. And although politics in California is bigger than life, the refusal of Kennedy partisans here to reconcile themselves with Vice President Hubert Humphrey is evident elsewhere in the country.

The attempt at post-assassination reconciliation originated in California with a lieutenant of National Committeeman Eugene Wyman, Humphrey's top man in California. Believing that feuds are often patched up at the funeral of a mutual friend, the Wyman aide thought the tragedy might bring together two former allies who have been bitter factional foes since

Evans

1964 — Gene Wyman and Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, leader of the state's Kennedy forces

Suggest Meeting

Consequently, Wyman's lieutenant approached an aide to Unruh with the suggestion that Wyman and Unruh meet for the first time in years. They would talk about arrangements for the National Convention in Chicago and perhaps general political questions. There would be no discussion of the future course of the 174-vote California delegation, pledged to Kennedy and headed by Unruh.

There will be no such peace meeting, Unruh flatly rejected the idea, suspecting an operation to transfer the delegation to Humphrey. Nor did he express interest in seeing Wyman about any subject, any time.

Unruh's attitude preordained the outcome of last Saturday's meeting of his delegation in Los Angeles. Acting on Unruh's suggestion, the delegates voted overwhelmingly to remain uncommitted. Had they gone in any substantial number for Humphrey, the last pathetic shred of hope held by Sen. Eugene McCarthy would have disappeared.

Must Be Wooed

But Humphrey probably will be nominated, with or without California's 174. The significance of the non-reconciliation between Unruh and Wyman lies deeper. It reveals that the Kennedy forces, representing considerable Democratic strength, are not stampeding to the call of party unity. Bitter, demoralized, and frustrated, they must be wooed by Humphrey if he expects their support.

Indeed, it is no secret here that Unruh feels Humphrey is still supporting the Johnson Vietnam policy, would lead the party here to humiliating defeat against either Richard M. Nixon or Nelson Rockefeller. Even if Humphrey modified his war policy, according to this view, he would be a distinct underdog in California.

It is known that Unruh feels McCarthy would be much stronger here, even though the animosity by California Ken-dy partisans derived from McCarthy's hard-hitting primary campaign here against Kennedy is enduring.

That was demonstrated last week when Mrs. Ann Alanson, a McCarthy booster and ex-officer member of the convention delegation by virtue of her office of National Committeewoman, telephoned an Unruh associate to discuss convention logistics. She was cut off sharply and told that her presence at the Saturday delegation caucus would be offensive to the Kennedy family in view of McCarthy's attacks on Kennedy.

Another, less emotional, Unruh aide called her back to smooth the waters, but anti-McCarthy sentiment is deep. Key members of the Unruh delegation cannot erase from their memories Kennedy's private complaints in the last week of his life about McCarthy's personalized attacks. Nor has their wrath been assuaged by a barrage of telephone calls, letters, and postcards. One Kennedy delegate told us he has received 50 — from rank-and-file McCarthyites urging support for their candidate.

Besides, Unruh and the practical politicians around him believe McCarthy has no chance to be nominated. Their only hope is that by withholding their support in an uncommitted stance they might become the lever to push Humphrey closer to Kennedy's Vietnam position. Whatever it does about Vietnam, the Humphrey camp would do well to interrupt its euphoria to consider the sullen neutrality of the Unruh delegation. It represents a substantial body of Democrats who today view Humphrey's prospective nomination with less than happiness and joy.

Hortonville Man Fined for Conduct

Kenneth Otto, 23, 336 Nye St., Hortonville, was fined $35 and costs or eight days in jail on one of two disorderly conduct charges Tuesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The second charge against Otto was dismissed. Hortonville police charged Otto with disorderly conduct Dec. 5 after he was stopped on Main Street while wearing a gun and holster. He allegedly became argumentative and "challenged" Police Chief Douglas Jones to a "draw." Otto pleaded innocent and demanded a six-man jury. The charge was dismissed Tuesday. He pleaded no contest and was found guilty of a disorderly conduct count brought by Hortonville police June 2 after he became abusive to officers who had stopped a car driven by Earl Wangeline, 22, 1110 N. Waver St., New London. Wangeline earlier pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and was fined $35 and costs.

New Yorker Acquitted Of LSD Possession
FORT ERIE, Ont. (AP) — May 25 Authorities said his suitcase contained $72,000 worth of the drug.
In a statement at his trial, June 6 Staley said he was taking the LSD from New York to Toronto, where he was to have handed it over to an unidentified person at a hotel.

Magistrate Johnstone L. Roberts, in acquitting Staley, said there was no evidence that Staley had been offering the LSD for sale. Roberts said that possession of the drug has not been made an offense in Canada.

Burglars Net $70, Goods In 3 Entries

About $70, along with liquor, personal belongings and store merchandise were stolen during three burglaries in Appleton, Tuesday and early Wednesday.

About $23 and an undetermined quantity of cigars and cigarettes were taken during a burglary Tuesday night or early Wednesday at Brockman's Clover Farm Store, 501 S. Douglas St.

The burglary was reported to Appleton police at 6 a.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by forcing a storm door and a basement door.

The James Rolando family, 2115 E. Forest St., returned home from vacation Tuesday evening to find their home had been entered. Burglars forced a bedroom window.

About $43.75 a wrist watch, six bottles of liquor and wine, and two bottles of beer were taken. Detectives said Dresser drawers were ransacked. The Rolandos were gone since Friday, but the house had been checked Monday noon.

About $3 in change and three packages of cigarettes were taken in another burglary at Schaefer Dairy Store, 2036 E. Newberry St. The burglary one of several in recent weeks was discovered about 4 a.m. Wednesday. Entry was gained by breaking a door glass on the west side of the building.

Kaukauna Approves $83,000 Industrial Arts Addition

KAUKAUNA — The fiscal control board of the school district Tuesday night authorized the board of education to construct a 7,150 square foot addition to the industrial arts department of the high school at an estimated cost of $83,369.

Dominic Bordini, former director of the Kaukauna Vocational School, explained the importance of the addition, pointing out that 800 of the 1,400 students enrolled in classes are taking some type of vocational training. The addition would permit expansion of the auto body, auto mechanics, sheet metal and welding departments.

Approval was given with the understanding that the school board would utilize funds from the Electa Quimby School bond issue if it could be done legally. About $110,000 remains in the fund, but this is earmarked for road construction and purchase of school property, both items to be considered at a future date.

Without using the Electa Quimby funds, it was estimated the district had about $30,700 available toward the cost of construction and a breakdown of costs was furnished for municipalities in the district. Kaukauna's share was set at $38,770 and others were towns of Harrison, $4,064; Vanden Broek, $2,979; Buchanan, $2,748; Woodville, $1,179; Holland, $1,174; Little Chute, $1,005; and Kaukauna, $726.

The school board called a special meeting following the fiscal control board discussion and authorized the hiring of George Narovec and Associates, Appleton, as architects for the addition. They also agreed to sell a garage located on property where the addition will be constructed.

Council Session Streamlined At New London

Minutes No Longer Read; Disbursement System Is Changed

NEW LONDON — City council meetings in the future will be shortened considerably as the results of action Tuesday changing the system of paying bills and setting standards for minutes of meetings.

Minutes no longer will be read at each council meeting, however, minutes will be prepared in advance and each alderman will be given a copy at the Monday committee of the whole meeting.

Bills will be itemized and coded and will be paid and listed by voucher number instead of publishing a complete list of bills in the official newspaper and including them in the minutes. Bills will be on file at the city clerk's office for anyone wishing to see them.

No longer will a description of committee reports be carried in the official minutes. The minutes will include the name of committee making the report, person giving the report, date of the committee meeting and any recommendations made by the committee. Previously a dialogue of the report was contained in the minutes.

The changes were prompted by complaints in the past of the cost of publishing lengthy minutes and on time spent at each meeting reading them.

CHILTON — As of Monday, 30 seventh through ninth grade boys were registered for Babe Ruth baseball. Forty-four to 48 boys are needed in order to have a four-team league. At least 14 more registrations are needed to fill out the league.

The recreation department sent letters to the parents of 35 boys, who last season played in the Babe Ruth or Rookie Leagues, explaining the situation. An appeal also was made to parents to help manage the teams. There has been little response to this letter which may result in no league being formed this year.

Orville Manz is in charge of the contest. Those interested in entering are asked to contact him by July 1. He will schedule all entries with the time they will appear.

The picnic will start at Civic Park the evening of July 3. A parade is scheduled for 11 a.m. July 4. Donald Richart is parade chairman. Entry deadline is July 1. Prizes will not be given.

Dancing on the blacktopped park area is planned for Wednesday and Thursday nights to modern and old time music.

Five mechanical rides and live ponies will make up the midway. A fireworks display will begin at 10 p.m. Thursday under direction of Fire Chief Ernest Pitzen. Picnic fare will be available during the two-day celebration. Leander Roehrig, chamber president, is general chairman.

BRILLION — Forty-six students are participating in the summer phase of the driver education program which started here this week.

Students will spend 30 hours in the classroom discussing regulations and fundamentals of safe driving. Each participant will receive at least six hours of behind-the-wheel driving and six hours observing other drivers. Summer program participants will drive for 40 minutes and observe for 40 minutes until they meet requirements.

Boys Needed For Chilton Boys League

CHILTON — As of Monday, 30 seventh through ninth grade boys were registered for Babe Ruth baseball. Forty-four to 48 boys are needed in order to have a four-team league. At least 14 more registrations are needed to fill out the league.

The recreation department sent letters to the parents of 35 boys, who last season played in the Babe Ruth or Rookie Leagues, explaining the situation. An appeal also was made to parents to help manage the teams. There has been little response to this letter which may result in no league being formed this year.

Interested players and prospective managers are urged to contact the Recreation Director John Freidel.

People's Forum
Gun Laws Aid Reds,
Politicos, Criminals

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

It seems there are three distinct groups of people who will benefit from gun legislation. The first would be the Communist Party. Once all guns are registered and located they could sponsor civil riots, disorders, sniping, etc., and then start another gun controversy this time asking for complete gun abolishment.

Gun registration is a big step in the right direction for their cause.

Second would be the politicians who would be on the receiving end of the millions of dollars in revenue brought about by registration fees and ownership licenses. Can't you see the dollar signs in their eyes as they try to tell us in effect that only unregistered guns can kill. Do they think criminals are going to register their guns?

Third would be the crime syndicates. Wouldn't they enjoy any law that would hinder or perhaps prohibit the honest citizens from buying or owning a gun. They could break into your house or rob your store knowing that the only danger to them is the policeman who will arrive five minutes after the victim calls him, if he is alive to call him.

Don't these "Carrie Nation" type fanatics know that the thousands of men who died in the Revolutionary War did so to instill the bill of rights as the American way. And that one of those laws they died for reads, "The rights of the American people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed upon."

Taxation, licensing, red tape. Wisconsin money being invalid in Minnesota, Michigan or any other "foreign state" gun shop is an infringement that cannot be denied.

George Orwell's book, "Animal Farm," contained a part where all the farm laws had an "except" added to them.

Are we going to have an "except clause" on our rights to keep arms? Orwell's book was a satire on Communism taking over the farm.

How About Women Getting Together and Protesting?

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

We live in the best country in the world. I wouldn't want to live any place else, but with conditions all over as they are, how long can it go on? To me there's so things to do and nothing is done.

We have the war in Vietnam. We are sacrificing too many of our young men. for what? Westmoreland says we can't win that war. Then why are we there?

The Pueblo situation, seems to be forgotten entirely. It seems tragedy in any form is forgotten too quickly in our country.

So many unsolved killings and crimes.

The time to do something about these situations is when it happens, when it's fresh in our minds. They seem to just be stalling for another tragedy to occur so our thoughts will be drawn to that, and we forget the past tragedies. Maybe it's about time women are heard from. How about women banning together and marching, and protesting the war in Vietnam, the Pueblo and the crimes. I'm really surprised women haven't done something before this. All these boys in Vietnam have mothers. It's the last thing in the world a boy wants to do to be sent to Vietnam, as there simply is no sense in being there. Let's get behind our sons, and see what we can do to end that senseless war and bring them back where they belong, and where they'd love to be and protecting our own country.

Something has to be done, things can't go on as they are. Men don't seem to do nothing and they couldn't care less. It seems, the only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing. These words are sure true. Why don't good men do something?

Good Old Summertime Brings Out Kimberly Band

Editor, Post-Crescent:

For those of us that are lucky, "In the Good Old Summertime", is not just a saying and its meaning is very clear every time we attend one of the traditional park band concerts. They are as much a part of summer as baseball, swimming pools and barbecues. Without our Wednesday evening excursion to Kimberly's beautiful Sunset Park, our family would be lost. Our children would never have these precious childhood memories, as most of us adults do. All who have ever attended one of these concerts do sincerely thank the Village of Kimberly, all of its band members, and their director, Gordon Koskosky.

Those who were unable to attend the first concert of the season on June 12, really missed something. I know they have all heard about it, and are sorry. Midway through the regular concert, the audience was thrilled to hear a group of about sixteen teens, ranging in age from 16 through 18, perform for them. Their selections included from modern music to jazz. To a person, all were amazed at the accomplishments of these young people, who formed their group from through-out the Kimberly School District with the expert help and guidance of the band instructor, Jerry Kaehr. Their love of music is obvious. I think they proved to everyone present that music is still the best and most beautiful form of communication! We, at Kimberly, think of them as our "Capital K's"!

I hope this teen group will do many repeat performances along with our Community Band so those who didn't hear them, may still have an opportunity to do so. As for those of us who did hear them — we wouldn't miss a repeat performance for anything in the world —!

Proper Diet Vital to Cure Liver Ailments

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr Molner You mentioned the effect of alcohol on the liver, and also diet and medication. Please give a list of foods that are generally bad for the liver, for those whose liver problems were not caused by alcohol. — C.B.

Dear Doctor My son's case has been diagnosed as Laen-nec's cirrhosis with ascites. How serious is this condition? Should he limit all activities? — J.S.

Cirrhosis of the liver is always serious. The term Laenec's cirrhosis is usually used when alcohol is the cause. Poisoning, faulty diet, infections, and probably other factors can also cause cirrhosis.

The term itself — cirrhosis — implies that, from whatever cause, the liver is hardened and filled with scar tissue.

The liver has great powers of regeneration, if given a chance. This means correct diet, which we will discuss in a moment, and freedom from anything that is poisonous. Alcohol ranks at the top of the list. The patient with cirrhosis must not touch alcohol.

"Correct diet" means eating things the liver needs, and only in a minor way avoiding some types of food.

Indeed, an average healthful diet is about the best way to put it. That means a good supply of protein and of carbohydrate. For some patients, fats may be limited since cellular changes in the damaged liver involve the accumulation of fat.

Ascites (a-SIGHT-eez) raises a different problem. Ascites is accumulation of excessive fluids in the body and is a complication of cirrhosis after it has progressed. Restricting salt is usual in this case, and diuretic drugs are used to promote elimination of fluids.

A vitamin supplement is important in treating cirrhosis, and supplementary minerals may be given, particularly if diuretics are being used, since the diuretics remove some minerals.

An average diet usually supplies sufficient minerals, but if the patient has a fickle appetite, you have to be careful in this regard.

There was a day when very strict diets were used for cirrhosis, but experience shows that they were neither necessary nor of any real help, so today a well-balanced diet is used.

As to the amount of activity for a cirrhosis patient, it depends on the individual's condition. The cirrhosis patient often tends to be anemic and thus has a poor reserve of strength. Activity, for such a person, should be limited to whatever degree is necessary to prevent him from overtaxing his strength. Within that limit, there ordinarily is no reason for enforced inactivity.

Dear Dr Molner: My husband has a mole that used to be small, but now, 16 years later, it is about the size of a Pinto bean and suddenly got black like a piece of coal in the middle, and the rest is red. He also has some small bumps all over his body under the skin, and one of them hurts and the others itch. Should he see a doctor? Skin doctor or family doctor? — M.M.

Skin doctor — or any doctor. But get him to one as fast as you can. This could be trivial, but it also could be ominous, and he should be examined without delay.

Dear Dr Molner: Do you have a complete list of your booklets that you could send me? — J.S.

Yes, I'll be happy to send such a list to anyone, but please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the list. Periodically new ones are published. In another year or so you may want a new list.

Class Offered To Prepare For College

GREEN BAY — Students planning to attend college this fall may still enroll in a special non-credit course, "Focus on You: Preparing for College," offered at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The class will meet from 6.45 to 8.45 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays for four weeks starting June 25.

The course has been developed to help the beginning college student make a successful transition from high school.

Topics covered will be self-analysis as a student, evaluation of personal academic strengths and weaknesses, relation of personal interests and experience to a college career and educational philosophy and organizational structure of a college, including curriculum, faculty and extra-curricular activities.

Set Goals Also to be discussed are the use of the library, college classes, studying, preparing for and writing examinations, budgeting time, selecting courses and using a college catalogue. Students also will be advised on how to set personal goals based on knowledge of their own resources and the resources of the college.

Instructors for the course are Dr. Donald Makuen, director of student affairs at the UW-GB, and Miss Marge Ott, Miss Capitola Olmsted and Robert Shaw, student advisors.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Ione Brown, continuing education agent at the Green Bay campus.

March 24 theft of a power chain saw belonging to Richard Verhoeven.

Francis Gerrits, route 3, Kaukauna, had been charged with aiding and abetting in the theft of an electric planer April 24, from a house being constructed on Kenneth Avenue. The planer is owned by Edwin Nimmer. Police said Gerrits drove several youths to the house for the purpose of taking tools.

Three juveniles face court action for their parts in the thefts, police said. Gerrits and Weber appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. The complaints stated that the stolen merchandise was valued at less than $100, making the offenses misdemeanors.

'Air-Conditioned' City Hall Roof Worries Works Board

Literally speaking . . . one of these days the roof may fall in at city hall.

Board of public works members were warned about the roof Tuesday afternoon by Public Works Director Frank Keuler.

The problem is serious and simple, according to Keuler. The roof — not city hall — is "air-conditioned."

When the rains come down from a certain direction water seeps through the ceiling and dampens some desks in offices on the third floor of the old building.

Keuler asked permission to put on a new roof for about $1,600.

The board told him to take bids but to hold up awarding the actual contract.

The board may want to only repair that portion of the roof most vulnerable to the wind-blown rain.

Options Not Exercised

New Post Office Site Concerns Stoegbauer

Fears of Aid Al Stoegbauer (4) that the proposed new post office may not be located in his ward were discussed Tuesday during a meeting of the board of public works.

Stoegbauer said he was upset that options taken by the postal department had not been exercised and questioned why only the city was being requested to extend an option on municipally-owned property.

The announced site for the new post office to be built by a private developer and then leased to the postal department, is an area bounded by Franklin, Division and Packard streets, slightly more than two blocks from the College Avenue business district.

Later Decision

At first Stoegbauer wanted the board to amend a previous option agreement entered into with the federal government but then changed his mind when it was learned a final decision on the post office is due later in the month.

It was noted the government can still exercise options on several other sites under consideration for the new facility.

At one point it was disclosed a representative of the regional

Man Fined $100 After Police Chase

Berthel Vannatter, 25, route 2, Kaukauna, who was to have stood trial on a traffic charge brought after a high speed chase which followed a disturbance at a Kaukauna tavern May 13, Wednesday, changed his plea to no contest.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer found Vannatter guilty of attempting to elude an officer. He fined him $100 and costs or 25 days in jail and suspended his driver's license for 30 days.

Vannatter last month was fined $100 and costs on a reckless driving charge brought by Kaukauna police as a result of the same chase. Schaefer this morning vacated judgement on that count, when Vannatter pleaded no contest to the eluding charge.

Vannatter was in a car with Joseph W. Tinscher, 24, also of route 2, Kaukauna, who was sentenced to six months in jail Tuesday and was placed on two years probation for beating a City General Hospital in New Kaukauna policeman and a York City, Kotner joined the Kaukauna couple May 13. The faculty of the University of police chase began when Vannatter and Tinscher left a Kaukauna professor of psychiatry and chief clinical psychologist from 1949 to 1965.

Expand Responsibilities

UW-GB Officials Approved by Regents

Appointment of a director of liberal education seminars for the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay has been confirmed by the UW Board of Regents, and additional responsibilities were approved for three administrators who have joined the staff during the past year.

Dr. Ija N. Korner, Los Angeles, was named to direct the program of all-university seminars which will be a part of the undergraduate academic program beginning in 1969 when UW-GB becomes a degree-granting unit of the University of Wisconsin. Korner is now director of research with the Center for Training in Community Psychiatry, Los Angeles.

A graduate of the University of Geneva in Switzerland, Korner earned his doctorate in psychology from Columbia University in 1948. After serving as senior psychologist at Kings County General Hospital in New York City, Korner joined the faculty of the University of Utah, where he was associate professor of psychiatry and chief clinical psychologist from 1949 to 1965.

During a year's stay in India as a Fulbright professor, he served as psychologist to the All India Psychological Association and consultant to the All India Child Evaluation Study.

New assignments at the assistant chancellor level were approved for Dr. Donald R. Makuen, appointed executive director of student affairs, and Dr. Raymond Vlasin, named assistant chancellor for Extension. Makuen joined the university staff as director of student affairs of the Green Bay campus and Vlasin as director of planning and regional development.

Dr. Werner Prange was named director of instructional resources. He joined the administrative staff last year as a specialist in telecommunications.

Patrols Kill 93 Viet Cong In Quietest Day Since May 5

U. S. Forces Report 4 Clashes, Biggest in Copter Landing Zone

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantrymen patrolling Saigon's outer defense ring killed 93 Viet Cong and seized 33 suspects in four clashes south and north of the capital, the U.S. Command reported today.

Inside the city and its suburbs, it was the quietest day since the Communist command launched its "second wave" of offensive on May 5.

No ground action was reported, and the only battle sounds came from the northern suburb of Gia Dinh. There government marines used grenades to collapse enemy bunkers abandoned Tuesday and Wednesday by 175 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese who gave up in the biggest surrender of the war.

The biggest battle in the ring around Saigon was fought by soldiers of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division who killed at least 44 Viet Cong Wednesday around a helicopter landing zone 12 miles north of the capital.

The action broke out at 11 a.m. when helicopter landed a company of American infantrymen, trying to intercept enemy units, landed in a landing zone surrounded by Viet Cong.

While the outnumbered Americans fought for their lives, helicopter gunships raked the enemy. Both sides moved up reinforcements but the 25th Division won the race, landing another 300 men at 2:30 p.m.

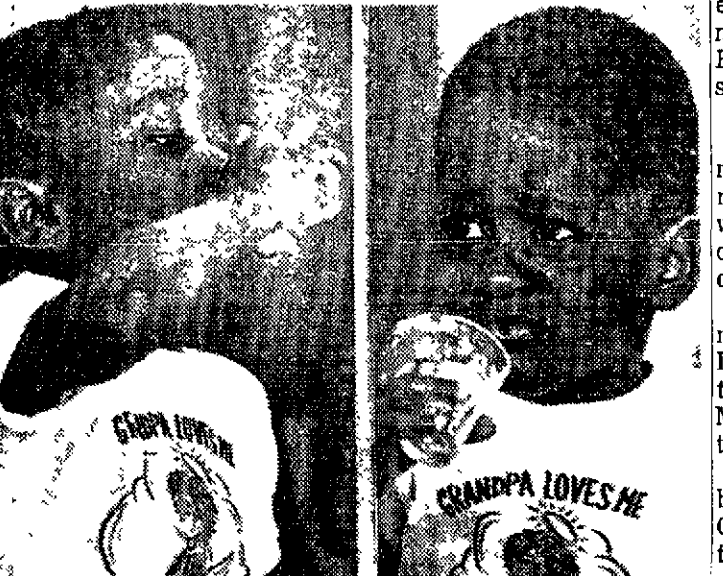

The battle continued until after midnight, then the Viet Cong

Doyle to Consider Constitutionality Of Protest Rules

MADISON (AP)—A U.S. district judge, James Doyle, says he will decide by mid-July whether University of Wisconsin rules on student protest are unconstitutional.

Attorneys for students contesting the rules, which were adopted after a violent antiwar demonstration Oct. 18, and the university presented arguments in Doyle's court Wednesday.

The students contend the UW rules are vague, too broad, and in violation of the first and 14th amendments.

"That Ain't Strawberries" is the unspoken belief of Mike Lollis after he accepted some medicine for his asthma, left, and discovered he didn't like it. Nurses at National Jewish Hospital, Denver, Colo., had told the three-year-old that the medicine tasted like a strawberry soda. (AP Wirephoto) were killed 29 miles northeast of Saigon when they were caught by troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and then hit by artillery, helicopter gunships and AC47 Magic Dragon planes with their rapid-firing miniguns. Only two American soldiers were reported killed and 18 wounded in the 90-minute fight that ended at dusk.

Destroy Bunker
Troops of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division killed 10 more enemy soldiers nine miles southeast of Saigon. Five were seen dodging into a bunker, and the infantrymen destroyed the bunker and the five guerrillas.

The 33 prisoners were gathered southwest of the capital by troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

The only other significant ground fighting reported by the allied commands Wednesday occurred in the Mekong Delta 65 miles southwest of Saigon. There Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 40 guerrillas and capturing 27 others while taking very light casualties.

The off-again, on-again character of the recent ground action was reflected in the weekly casualty reports from the allied commands, which reported enemy casualties last week were only about half those of the week before, American battle lowest in seven weeks and South Vietnamese battle dead also dropped off sharply.

Prices Higher Broadway Strike Ends, Shows Open Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — A contract dispute that darkened Broadway theaters and nine road shows for three days was settled early today after an all-night bargaining session at the mayor's residence.

Three shows closed during the Actors Equity strike won't open again, however, and there were hints of a possible ticket price rise. Ticket prices for a Broadway musical currently range from $11.90 to $3.50 and for a drama from $7.50 to $2.50.

After meeting through the night at Gracie Mansion with negotiators for Actors Equity and the League of New York Theaters, Mayor John V. Lindsay emerged at 6 a.m. and announced: "Performances in the Broadway theaters will be resumed tonight."

For Three Years
Lindsay said the contract will run for three years and calls for minimum wage rates of $145 a week the first year, $150 the second and $155 in the third. The current minimum wage is $130.

Appearing with Lindsay at the news conference were Angus Duncan, executive director of the union, and producer David Merrick, spokesman for the theater group.

Duncan said the contract had been approved by the Equity Council and would be explained to the membership this afternoon but said no ratification vote was needed to open the theaters tonight.

Merrick said it was "very likely there would be a rise in theater prices," but said he did not know how much of an increase would be needed.

Held in Mexico Youth Questioned About RFK Death

JUAREZ, Mex. (AP) — A 17-year-old youth who claims dual citizenship in the United States and Mexico is being questioned by Mexican federal agents and FBI agents about a letter containing statements concerning the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy.

The youth, identified by Juarez judicial Police Chief Jesus Chacon as Cristin Curiel Gonzales, was held without charge or bond.

Chacon said Gonzalez was examined for four hours late Wednesday by three psychiatrists who are to report to authorities later today.

Consulting Superiors
The Mexican federal district attorney in Juarez, Roberto Salinas, said he was consulting with his superiors in Mexico City to determine if any charges should be filed.

Chacon said the youth was picked up Monday night after, police said they were told, a letter containing statements to the effect that the youth had prior knowledge of the assassination fell from his pocket at a concession stand in Juarez.

Chacon would not divulge contents of the letter except to say it included statements about the assassination and also mentioned Robert Kennedy's brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Picked Up June 3
Police records showed that Gonzalez was picked up June 3 in Los Angeles on a vagrancy charge, local officers said, and that Gonzalez told Los Angeles police he was a native of Mexico.

Gonzalez was sent to El Paso, Tex., across the Rio Grande from Juarez, for deportation to Mexico. When he arrived in El Paso he claimed U.S. citizenship and a check of Washington State records indicated he was born a U.S. citizen.

He also claims Mexican citizenship and Chacon said the youth's parents live in the state of Colima, Mexico. They were not identified.

La Follette Says He Is Removing Investigator for 'Lack of Judgment'

MADISON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette says he is removing Le Roy L. Dalton as his chief investigator because of a "lack of judgment" involving a slander suit against Milwaukee banker Howard J. Meister.

La Follette's announcement for transfer of Dalton from chief of the state justice department's criminal investigation division to the motor vehicle division "was not an easy decision, but one that has been a long time coming," the attorney general said late Wednesday.

The new post he offered to Dalton is similar to one Dalton held when he joined the attorney general's office in 1955. La Follette insisted it is "not a demotion. It's a transfer."

Dalton Undecided
Dalton said he learned last week that La Follette was planning to ask him to quit as investigative chief. The assistant attorney general said he had not decided immediately whether to accept a transfer, and that he would confer with his attorney.

La Follette, Democratic candidate for governor, said his decision is not a result of complaints received from Meister about an investigation earlier this year at a Milwaukee tavern in which the banker has a part interest.

But he said an investigation of the tavern was undertaken without his knowledge after Dalton had filed a $200,000 libel and slander suit against Meister, stemming from a statement Meister made about Dalton's role in a lobbying charge against the banker.

The lobbying charge against Meister, a result of a Dane County grand jury investigation, was dismissed.

Consultation Asked
La Follette said that when Dalton subsequently filed his law suit, he told the assistant attorney general to consult with him thereafter on matters involving Meister.

La Follette said the libel suit placed Dalton's office in a position of "potential conflict of interest."

Dalton's division, La Follette said, proceeded with the investigation of the Milwaukee tavern without consulting him. The investigation led to arrests in May after minors were reported loitering near the establishment.

"The first time I had heard of what happened" was when Meister telephoned to complain, La Follette told newsmen.

Ike's Heart Beat More Regular

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that irregularities of the heart rhythm noted in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's heart attack case have decreased in frequency since they were first reported Wednesday.

Doctors at Walter Reed General Hospital, where Eisenhower is still in the critical period for recovery, made this report in a medical bulletin issued shortly after 10 a.m. EDT.

The bulletin said: "Gen. Eisenhower has had another comfortable 24 hours. Some irregularities of the heart rhythm have continued to be present but have decreased in frequency since yesterday's release. There has been no further chest pain and no signs of heart failure have occurred."

Interior Ministry
The hotel said the matter was in the hands of the Interior Ministry's security department, but the security office in Havana said it had no information.

Viasa Airlines said that the flight landed in Cuba at 12:20 a.m. The International Air Line Guide listed Flight 797 as originating in Santo Domingo with a scheduled stop at Curacao in the Netherlands Antilles before reaching Caracas, Venezuela.

A newsmen who spoke to the pilot before communications were stopped identified him as Harry Gibson.

Regents Okay Perlman for UW Position

New Pharmacy Dean Opposed by State Association

MADISON — The appointment of a new pharmacy dean at the University of Wisconsin was reaffirmed Wednesday by the UW Board of Regents despite charges of coercion brought by a statewide pharmacy organization.

Dr. David Perlman was retained by the regents after a five-hour marathon session behind locked doors which heard a parade of faculty members and administrators involved in the search process which ended with the regent's original appointment in February.

Perlman was called to appear before the board along with a faculty delegation and the retiring dean of the school, Dr. Joseph Uhl.

Lacks Qualifications

Last week the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association opposed the appointment of Perlman, saying that he lacked professional qualifications needed to head the school, that university procedures had been violated in his selection and that coercion had been used against faculty members and pharmacists opposed to his selection.

Regent President Charles Gelatt, LaCrosse, said after the session that the board was satisfied the choice was made properly and that Perlman has the qualifications to head the school.

Perlman takes his new post on July 1.

The association opposed Perlman because he lacks formal pharmacy training. Perlman is a biochemist who has spent almost all of his professional career working for a drug manufacturer.

Gelatt said Wednesday that the search and selection procedures of the campus had been properly followed and that Perlman has the qualifications needed to head the school.

Judgment Question

Even if the regents disagreed with the choice, the board would not impose its will over properly followed procedures unless serious questions of judgment arose, Gelatt said.

Gelatt said that a delegation of 18 pharmacy faculty members appeared to back Perlman. The school has fewer than two dozen faculty members.

Perlman is the son of the late UW economist Selig Perlman.

Motorcyclist Fined $200, Loses Permit

An Appleton motorcyclist who struck a pedestrian early this morning of April 14, was fined a total of $200 and costs or 49 days in jail Wednesday.

Willard N. Tillman, 19, 2510 W. Eighth St., who had pleaded innocent of driving under the influence of intoxicants and hit and run, changed his pleas to guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 after City Atty. David Geenen amended the hit and run count to failing to report an accident.

In addition to the fines, Judge Nick F. Schaefer revoked Tillman's driver's license for one year.

Tillman also faced a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants on Oct. 30. That charge was dismissed Wednesday on a motion by Geenen. The October charge came after Tillman's car was involved in an accident on W. College Avenue about 12:45 a.m. He had pleaded innocent.

The April 14 charges were brought by Appleton police after Tillman's cycle struck Agnes Sue Murphy, 1324 N. Alvin St., while she was crossing W. College Avenue at N. Walnut Street. She suffered a right leg injury. Police arrested Tillman a half hour later after observing the erratic operation of his cycle in the 500 block of W. Sixth Street.

$1.3 Million Needed Annually

Public Control Is Price of State Aid to Marquette's Medical School

BY TIM WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — If the Marquette School of Medicine is to receive public funds to cure its financial ills, it must be publicly controlled, a leading state educational group voted Wednesday.

The formerly-Catholic run medical school in Milwaukee must come under state budgetary and policy control in return for the $1.3 million a year necessary to keep it open and operating as the state's major source of graduating medical students, the group said.

The action came from the plans and policies committee of the state's Coordinating Council for Higher Education which split 6-2 in favor of the strong stand for state domination of the school's board of trustees.

Split Committee

The committee earlier Wednesday split 5-3 in killing a proposal which would have insisted on some state controls, but kept the school under a predominantly private board of directors.

The school has separated itself from the Catholic university of the same name and is now operating with a 10-man board of directors selected from throughout the Milwaukee community.

The school's $9 million budget now suffers a deficit of more than $1 million annually.

The school Wednesday proposed that the committee back a plan calling for state aid in return for an additional five seats on the board. Those five vacancies would be filled by gubernatorial appointments.

The school proposed that the aid be granted directly by the legislature to Milwaukee County or through the state-run Higher Educational Aids Board (HEAB) which currently contains some private school representatives.

County Contract

The Milwaukee County plan would allow the school to contract with the county for at least $1.3 million a year in medical services.

The HEAB proposal would allow the funneling of state aids through the agency which has been created to dispense student aids to public and private colleges in Wisconsin.

Instead, the committee voted to back the aid if the school agrees to make nine of the 15 trustee seats available for gubernatorial appointments. The school must be brought under the complete budgetary and policy review procedures of the CCEH, the committee agreed.

And the school must agree to submit its annual request for aid to the legislature as part of a single higher educational budget for the state, under the proposal.

The plan was presented by CCEH Chairman, Walter Kohler, a former governor who said it was necessary politically to gain legislative clearance.

Seat on CCEH

In return, the Marquette School of Medicine should be granted one seat on the CCEH, the committee agreed. The six remaining seats on the Marquette board could be filled in any way the existing board desires, the committee suggested.

Marquette Medical School Vice President John W. Cowee had previously rejected elements of the Kohler plan when he stated flatly that Marquette feels that the CCEH is not the proper state body to have a hand in governing the school.

If the CCEH wants to run a private educational institution, he said, it should hand over half of its seats to representatives of a private education.

HEAB is made up of five public school representatives, also five gubernatorial appointees and five spokesmen for private education. The 1969 legislature will be asked to help solve the two related problems.

DeZonia, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, warned the committee to give speedy approval to the Kohler plan. The CCEH has been severely criticized in the past for acting too hastily on proposals it has not studied, he reminded the committee.

DeZonia's group is made up of 18 private colleges. "I'm scared to death when you talk of 18 private institutions, most of which will want to get on the same bandwagon," of state aid, said Kohler in rebuttal.

Voting against the proposal for state control were UW Regent President Charles Gelatt, LaCrosse, and State Vocational Board Chairman Joseph Noll, Kenosha. Both maintained that the Kohler plan would rob the private school of its identity.

The committee report will be sent to the full CCEH for action in July and forwarded to Gov. Warren P. Knowles.

The legislative finance unit, also studying Marquette's needs and state medical education problems. The 1969 legislature will be asked to help solve the two related problems.

Youth Will Face Trial For Burglary

Charles Voigt, 19,
Denies Committing
Act at Print Firm

Trial is set for Aug. 15 for a 19-year-old Menasha youth who pleaded innocent to a charge of burglarizing Commercial Print-American Field Service (AFS) Co., of Appleton the night of June 12, the same night the seas summer sessions. Both will be extensively damaged leave next week.

Charles J. Voigt, 873 Seventh St., a former employee of the month in a special school conference, appeared in Outagamie County Court on a charge brought following investigation by Appleton detectives. His attorney, told the court he and his client have not yet decided if they will want a jury trial. Voigt entered his plea after waiving his right to a preliminary hearing.

The attorney asked for a reduction in the $1,500 bond, saying that merchandise valued at less than $5 allegedly was taken from the printing firm.

However Judge Nick F. Schaefer denied the request, saying that burglary is a serious charge, regardless of the value of items taken. Voigt was questioned by detectives the day after the fire which caused an estimated $25,000 damage to the plant at 1112 S. Oneida St. Most of the damage was to the contents of the firm operated by Donald Haynes. The state fire marshal's office also took part in the investigation of the fire which started inside the building.

New Tax Package Not Remedy for Inflation

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Now that the tax increase-spending cuts package finally is slated to become law let's coldly reassess what it is designed to accomplish and what it will accomplish.

Q Will it halt inflation?

A. No. The forces behind today's price-wage spiral here now become far too powerful to be wiped out by a modest tax hike and a curb on the growth in Federal spending.

Spurred by an accelerating rise in the cost of living, the drive for steep wage increases is at a peak. Backed up by soaring paychecks and profits, demands for goods are at a record. Zooming wage costs are pushing up prices; swelling demands are pulling up prices.

Trends of this magnitude and power cannot be halted overnight by anything short of a severe slump. This we do not face.

Q What will the tax rise do to prices?

A By cutting take-home pay and after-tax profits, it will moderate demands for goods and thus, begin to decelerate the price uptrend.

This is all we can hope for, a first step back toward an era of reasonable price stability. In 1968, though, the cost of living still will be up around 4 per cent.

Q Will the tax hike cause a recession in late 1968-69?

A. It will lead to a slowing of our pace of economic growth. This is the objective, to force a curtailment in today's unsustainable pace and thereby relieve the pressures on prices, not an actual downturn.

Porter

wages, materials, manpower. A recession is unlikely but a very slow rise in the first half of 1969 is seen as a distinct possibility. This will be due to the tax hike, the delayed impact of the credit squeeze and other tax restraints such as the $3 billion a year rise in Social Security taxes. None of this considers the effect of further de-escalation in Vietnam.

Assuming no change in Vietnam and a tax hike lasting through 1969, one authoritative projection has these numbers:

Economy Slowdown

The economy would grow at a rate of under 5 per cent in 1969 against 8 per cent in 1968; industrial production would rise hardly at all against a 3 1/2 per cent increase this year, profits after taxes would be down about 3 1/4 per cent against a rise of 1 1/2 per cent in 1968, consumer spending would climb about 5 1/2 per cent against 7 1/2 per cent this year.

Indisputably, a slowdown, but not an actual downturn.

Q Will the tax rise end the tight money squeeze?

A. No. Money will remain comparatively expensive and hard to get, but the odds are interest rates will level off and ease a bit from today's historic peaks. Reserve Board chairman Martin says he hopes interest rates "are seeing their peaks."

Q Will it solve our balance of payments problem?

A. No, but again, it will help ease it. The tax hike will be evidence of the fiscal responsibility our foreign creditors have been demanding and the danger of another flight from dollars will be lessened.

And to the extent that our buying of foreign imports is reduced by the tax hike and high interest rates, our trade surplus will be improved.

Huge Deficit

Q Will it balance the budget?

A. No. It will, however, reduce the budget deficit to more manageable proportions in the next fiscal year.

The First National City Bank of New York estimates the deficit in the year to start July 1 at roughly $5 billion against $23-$24 billion without the tax increase. It probably will be considerably bigger than $5 billion. The growth in Federal spending will be at least $4.6 billion but this is to be viewed against a $20 billion annual rate during the past three years.

Q. In sum?

A. The tax hike-spending curbs will slow us down.

Maybe the Cream . . .

But Not the Peaches

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Thomas R. Zarcone, 51, of the Buffalo suburb of Amherst may have developed an aversion to peaches early Monday—end for good reason.

Zarcone was driving a truck and eating a peach when juice from the fruit squirted into his eyes. The vehicle went out of control and hit a pole. Zarcone was released from the hospital after treatment for arm and nose injuries.

Council Mulls New Type of Budget Process

Mayor Would Have More Fiscal Power Under Proposed Plan

Appleton aldermen voted Wednesday night to consider going to an executive-type budget for 1969 but several admitted they did not know what it was all about.

The action stemmed from a discussion in April at the organizational meeting of the city council when Ald. Robert Roemer (8th) suggested an executive budget be considered.

In the true sense of the word, an executive budget is prepared through the mayor's office and gives the city chief executive considerably responsibility as well as authority.

However, in the resolution adopted by the council last night this was not the case.

Signed By 16

The resolution advocating the executive budget was signed by 16 aldermen. Two others who did not sign said they wanted to get some information on what it was all about first.

Mayor George Buckley said he would welcome an executive budget if this is what the council really intended.

But the wording of the resolution — referred to the finance committee for study and a report and recommendation back to the council — was somewhat vague, city officials agreed.

It in effect did not transfer the authority to the executive branch (mayor's office) as an executive budget is intended to do.

Under terms of the resolution, which one of the signers predicted would be changed as discussion unfolds in coming weeks, the executive budget process would be modified and somewhat "watered down."

Mayor Prepares

He calls for an "executive budget" to be prepared by the mayor with the advice of department heads, and then presented to the finance committee for review. The committee would eventually forward it to the council.

Rites Sunday For Missing Navy Man

Memorial services will be held Sunday at St. Paul Lutheran Church for James Kenneth Bruggeman, a member of the 99-man crew apparently lost at sea in the submarine Scorpion.

Services, which will be held at 11 a.m., will be conducted by Rev. H. W. Bergholz and will not include military ceremonies.

Attending the services will be the wife of the former Appleton sailor, Mrs. Allie Bruggeman, who came from Virginia Beach, Va.

Bruggeman is survived by his wife, his mother, Mrs. Vernora Bruggeman, of Appleton; and four sons, Ronald, 9, and twins-five feet of fill on top of the Kennedy and Kennette, both 2, pipeline. He speculated the fill and a brother, David, Menasha, caused the pipe to slip out of Military memorial services place and open up.

Repair crews, including special crew last Thursday at the site of the equipment from South Be-lloft, Ill., were sent to the site. The equipment from Illinois arrived at about 6:30 p.m.

Crews worked all night attempting to de-water the area so the scheduled. Since then, air and joint could be welded.

Aldermen Keep Power Sidewalk Ordinance Gets Council's 'Axe'

The much-discussed municipal sidewalk ordinance originally framed from pinpointing land recommended by the city council's street-sanitation committee, got the axe Wednesday night.

Aldermen held a committee of future building program which the whole session following their regular meeting and also dealing with two other matters.

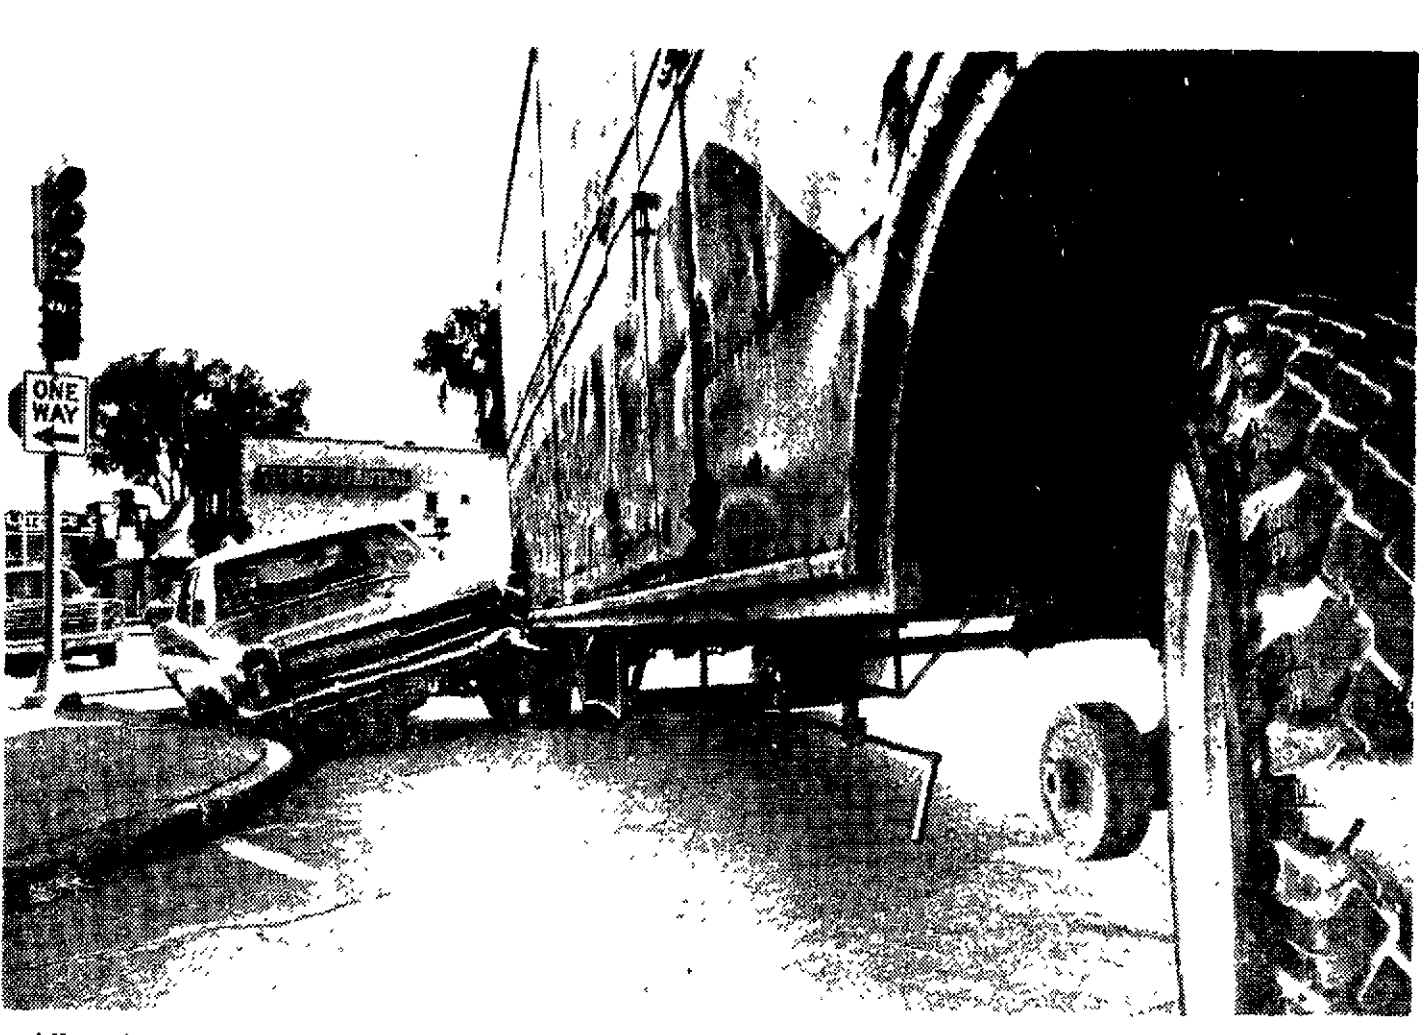

Their final action was to: —Drop the entire sidewalk ordinance idea and leave it in the hands of individual aldermen to order sidewalks for their respective wards.

Sell Land

—Sell to the Appleton Jaycees about one acre of land on the city-owned Langdyke property for the site of a new state from Jaycee office. The price was $2,500 with a $500 down payment, the balance to be paid off over the next four years.

—Refrain from designating the 99-acre Langedyke tract for any type of specific land use for an indefinite period.

The council, noting the property had originally been purchased for school and park purposes before the old county airport was obtained for an industrial park, indicated it did not necessarily concur in some of the future plans of the school board for the site.

Allan A. Portmann, 27, 211 S. Glenridge Court, found himself in a tight squeeze when he started pulling away from a parking place at Superior and Washington Streets this morning. Both he and James J.

Landers, 63, 1321 W. Prospect Ave., driving a semi-trailer, decided to turn right onto Washington. Portmann's 1967 auto came out second best. There were no injuries. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Michigan Pipeline Ruptures Wells Supply Green Bay Water During Emergency

GREEN BAY — A break in the pipeline carrying Lake Michigan water to Green Bay Wednesday afternoon resulted in the loss of an estimated seven million gallons of water and forced the water department to shut off the Lake Michigan supply system about 7 p.m. Wednesday.

The water department shut off the Lake Michigan supply system about 7 p.m. Wednesday to repair a ruptured joint in the line leading from the pumping station to the Sugar Bush filtration plant in Kewaunee County.

The department began drawing water from nine artesian wells that have been kept on a reserve status since the Lake Michigan system went into operation in 1957.

Leak Discovered

The leak in the 42-inch concrete line was discovered about 2 p.m., when the department noticed a drop in its pumpage.

Kewaunee County authorities notified the department the leak was about three miles west of Lake Michigan in the Town of West Kewaunee. It was estimated that the joint broke about noon and lost about a million gallons of water an hour until it was shut off.

Phil Utd, general manager of the water department said the ruptured joint is on an "unstable piece of land." When the concrete trough, or cradle, was installed to hold the pipe

Since construction of the water system, he said, the highway department has done work in the area, and piled four to five feet of fill on top of the pipeline. He speculated the fill caused the pipe to slip out of

The switch to wells, Utd said, used on an emergency basis caused no additional problems. There have been no complaints due to lack of water, he said.

The last time that wells were used on an emergency basis was in September, 1957, about a month after the Lake Michigan water had been ordered and supply was opened. The city there have been no complaints reverts to the wells to make repairs on the pipeline.

Soldiers Square Mall Sidetracked

Objectors Score When Council Sends Issue Back to Committee

The proposed Soldiers Square pedestrian mall — under heat from a few College Avenue merchants and property owners — got the "referred back" treatment from the city council Wednesday night.

One of four pedestrian walk districts recommended for the central business district in Appleton's comprehensive plan, the $50,000 to $60,000 project has been postponed for close to two years.

The objectors are opposing the removal of an estimated 25 parking meter stalls from the square, bounded on the south by the multi-deck, 450-car Soldiers Square Parking Ramp.

They claim they have the type of businesses which require parking near the rear entrances to their stores.

Ignore Committee

Earlier in the week the street-sanitation committee, headed by Ald. Norman Beyer (20th) was unanimous in its recommendation to develop Soldiers Square from Morrison to Oneida Street in its entirety as a mall.

There also had been an alternate proposal calling for making the area half mall and half parking.

Originally, when the ramp was constructed the city paid for preliminary plans for the pedestrian walk and at that time the consultant said to renovate the entire square "or forget the project altogether."

Beyer moved at first Wednesday night to have the committee's recommendation stricken from the report. However, he changed his request to have it referred back to committee after being informed the first action would in effect kill any project.

State to Start New Armory

Groundbreaking Set Wednesday at Old Industrial Park

Ground will be broken next Wednesday for Appleton's new $290,000 Wisconsin National Guard armory on the city's westside.

Mayor George Buckley received notification today from Ralph G. Olson, Madison, the Wisconsin adjutant general.

Gen. Olson invited the mayor to participate in the ceremony which will be held at 10 a.m.

Start of construction on the new facility, which will replace the old building on East College Avenue, will be right on schedule as per the state's timetable.

National Guard units from the Fox Cities region will use the armory when completed.

The city donated 10 acres of land to the state for the building which will be located in the old industrial park area.

Ansorge Trial Expected to Go To Jury Today

GREEN BAY — Gillett businessman Emery Ansorge took the stand in his own defense in Circuit Court today to tell of events leading to the Nov. 30 auto accident that killed Kent Soulek, 29, of Oconto Falls.

The Ansorge trial is in its second day. He faces charges of negligence, homicide and leaving the scene of an accident. The defense rested its case following Ansorge's testimony, and a jury of eight men and four women is expected to begin deliberations this afternoon.

Ansorge was the driver of the car which struck and killed Soulek about one mile west of Gillett on State 22 about 11 p.m. The victim and several youths had been looking for a set of car keys along the roadside.

Ansorge testified that he and a Gillett man had been closing some cottages at Pickerel Lake, and stopped at a supper club near Cecil for dinner.

The operator of the club testified he served the defendant two drinks before dinner and several after dinner.

Ansorge said he was rounding a curve when he saw a pair of bright headlights. He then saw a light behind the first pair and thought a car was about to pass.

After he got into the glare of the headlights, Ansorge said he heard a "thud" and knew he had struck something, but he saw no signs of pedestrians on the south shoulder of the road.

The school board's five-year plan hearing may be postponed to allow the board of education and staff members to study recent reports on buildings and population projects.

Senate Hearing on Airport Aids Air Wisconsin Gets 'Sympathetic Ear'

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Officers of Air Wisconsin Inc., Appleton, were accorded extremely sympathetic and cordial treatment by Sen. A. S. "Mike" Monroney, D-Okla., when they testified Wednesday before his commerce and aviation subcommittee on the need of commuter airline progress.

Monroney, chairman of the subcommittee, seemed particularly interested in complaints made by Karl P. Baldwin, president of the airline, against the "discrimination" of the federal government in limiting aid to local airports which were served by certified airlines.

The commuter, or third level airline, should be recognized as an airline and a segment of the air transportation system, serving an ever-growing public need, Baldwin told Monroney.

He then outlined the money put into the Outagamie County Airport amounting to more than $1 million and he said that the county is now extending the runways to 6,000 feet with federal aid and to 7,000 without federal aid and is installing an instrument landing system without federal aid.

Outagamie Praised

Monroney smiled and commented that he liked to see local communities use their initiative as Outagamie has done without waiting for the federal government. The senator observed that such industriousness on the local level should not be penalized by the federal government.

Officials Give Nod to Joint Safety Meeting

County-City Committee Will Make Feasibility Study Within Month and Tour Other Facilities

Outagamie County and Appleton officials have gone on record in favor of a joint public safety building for law enforcement agencies and other departments, and will pursue a feasibility study.

The city council concurred Wednesday night in the recommendation of a city-county subcommittee which started exploratory talks on the municipal building project sometime ago.

A joint committee will report its findings to the Outagamie County Board and Appleton city council in 30 days.

The study group consists of Supvs. Patrick Mares and Joseph DeBruin and Executive Secretary Alvin Woehler, representing the county; and Aids. Ralph Gertsch (19th) and John F. Ayers (12th), along with Finance Director David Champion, the city.

The committee split up Wednesday and traveled to various parts of the state to inspect safety buildings in other cities.

The city members on the study group went to Madison and then Fond du Lac to view the joint city-county buildings there.

County-City Committee Will Make Feasibility Study Within Month and Tour Other Facilities

The safety building project, officials emphasized, is "strictly in the study stage."

Report of the full committee will be made to the county board and city council in late July or early August.

Airport Needs Land, Farmer Wants Money

Outagamie May Have to Pay for Unharvested Crops

Outagamie county may be forced to pay over $731 in arriving at a settlement with a Town of Greenville farmer who rented approximately 100 acres of airport land.

The county board's Public Property and Insurance Committee Thursday morning received a letter from Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath informing the committee that Quintin Rathack is asking $731.60 for settlement of unharvested crops.

Controversy over the matter also came to light when Francis Bloomer, an Appleton contractor, told the committee that

Resolution Drafted For Chief Deputy In Sheriff's Office

Undersheriff Would be Replaced Under Proposed Reorganization

The Outagamie County Board's law enforcement committee this morning began review of a resolution drafted by Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath which would replace the office of undersheriff with that of a chief deputy.

Most of the discussion on the resolution, expected to be presented at the July 9 board meeting, will take place this afternoon. Ponath was asked by the committee on June 6 to draft the resolution which has

The latest resolution calls for the changeover from undersheriff to chief deputy on Jan. 1, 1969. Although Ponath's resolution, in its original form, designates appointment of the first chief deputy by the sheriff and the law committee, the provision is expected to be changed, as are several other portions of the resolution, which the committee was told was "modeled" after Winnebago County's chief deputy ordinance.

State Examination

The committee felt that the first appointment, and those of all subsequent chief deputies, should be made on the basis of open, and competitive examinations by the state. The appointments would be confirmed by the county board.

Today's resolution designated the duties of a chief deputy, who would be second in command, under the sheriff, in county law enforcement.

Among the seven duties designated were the assigning and reviewing of work of officers and employees in the sheriff's department, preparing and making recommendations to the sheriff and the law enforcement committee, keeping records and making reports as directed by the committee.

Prepare Complaints

Making complaints to the sheriff and the committee for disciplinary purposes against any officer he believes has acted in a manner to merit suspension, demotion or dismissal, acting as administrative head and personnel officer; and directing internal operations, investigations and the civil process division.

The chief deputy would act as sheriff in the absence of a sheriff.

The salary of a chief deputy, which Supy. John R. Schreiner of Appleton said would better be termed "administrator," would be determined by the county board.

He would not be permitted to take a leave of absence to run for public office.

$10 Million Complex New Oshkosh Plaza To Open in Mid-1970

OSHKOSH — An opening of stores will benefit the city's mid-1970 for Park Plaza, a $10 million shopping complex on the Fox River within the city, was announced today by its developer, the Miles Kimball Co.

Sears Roebuck and Co. and H. C. Prange Co. will lease space for two major department stores. A supermarket, labeled as "Oshkosh's largest" by Miles Kimball Co., and most of the 40-odd smaller shops planned for the multi-million dollar project will be ready for the 1970 opening.

Park Plaza will cover an 18-acre site with Jackson and Commerce streets, Pearl Avenue and the Fox River as boundaries.

Lester Farrow, a Miles Kimball Co. spokesman, said today it is hoped that Park Plaza will be a major attraction for shoppers.

The Plaza and the rest of downtown Oshkosh, Farrow added, should draw an increasing amount of business from out-of-town persons who attend conventions at the Pioneer Inn.

The development also will benefit the city, Farrow said, by adding "a great amount of money" to the tax base. He added that the number of employees on payrolls of the various

Details of Park Plaza were released today by "The Paper," a morning newspaper published by the Miles Kimball Co.

The project will be financed entirely by private investment capital, according to the announcement.

The construction schedule calls for pouring the structural foundations for the Sears and Prange stores and the supermarket in September. Structural members of the first stores should be ready by May, 1969, with inside and outside construction finished within a year after that.

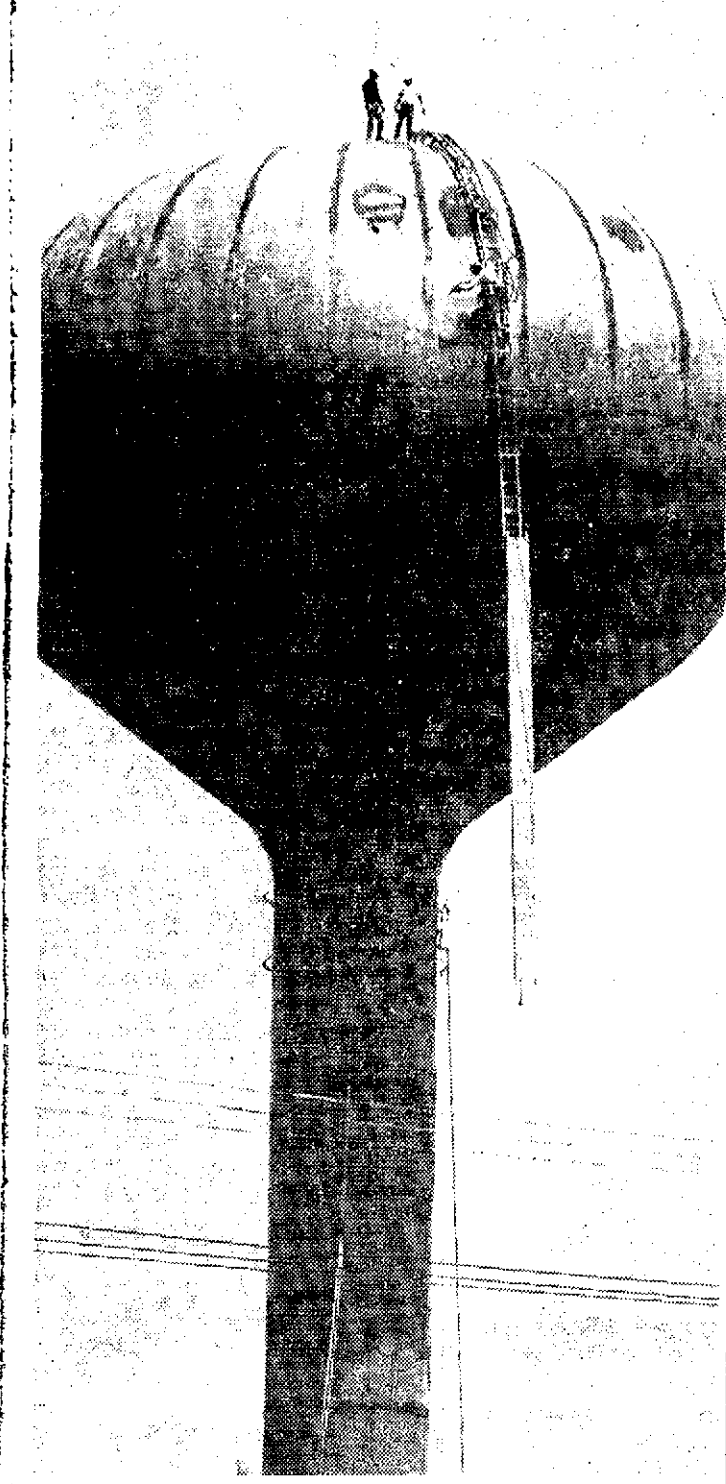

Both Sears Roebuck and H. C. Prange plan to open with two-story buildings with provisions for a future third story for the Prange store.

The smaller shops will be located in an enclosed mall, air conditioned in summer and heated in winter. Above the mall will be a parking lot which, Farrow said, will allow customers to drive their cars on that level from Prange's to the supermarket.

A $3 million parking ramp for an additional 1,500 cars will be

Supporters of McCarthy Won't 'Break Faith'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Wisconsin director of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's presidential campaign says the senator's supporters will not "break faith" with primary voters to support Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination. "The people of the United States have spoken clearly through the primary process that they want a change. For the Democratic party to ignore this clear message courts disaster for their national future," Donald O. Peterson said Wednesday. Peterson, who headed the Minnesota senator's successful role in Wisconsin's April 2 primary and who is a national co-chairman of the Conference of Concerned Democrats, said McCarthy's backers will not "break faith to accept the old politics."

The conference, he said "does not accept the inevitable candidacy of Hubert Humphrey any more than it accepted the inevitability of Lyndon Johnson."

President Johnson withdrew from the presidential race two days prior to Wisconsin's primary. McCarthy was the only other Democrat on the state's primary ballot. Vice President Humphrey did not enter the contest until later.

Peterson said the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy produced "a rash of predictions by political analysts" that Humphrey now has a clear road to the nomination at the Chicago convention in August.

About 50 Laid Off From Humphrey Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 50 of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's 200 paid campaign workers have been laid off in an economy move, a Humphrey spokesman said today.

The spokesman, Alvin Spivak, said the first notices were sent out Monday to employees of the United Democrats for Humphrey and United Citizens for Humphrey, but that some workers may be hired back in the next weeks.

Spivak said the layoffs were ordered because of Humphrey's reduced campaigning and fund raising activities following the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Stocks Up in Heavy Trading

Demand Adds Up After Layoff on Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced in heavy trading this afternoon after the Wednesday trading halt. Pent-up demand was not as great as last Thursday when there was record volume of 21.35 million shares.

Gains outstripped losses by a ratio of well over 2 to 1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 340.6, with industrials up 1.8, rails off 1.2, and utilities up 3.1.

An assortment of large blocks was traded, most of them at higher prices, reflecting an accumulation of demand from the Wednesday layoff, analysts said.

5.48 Million Shares

First hour volume was 5.48 million shares, compared with 3.57 million for the like period Tuesday, but it was well below the 6.29 million shares piled up last Thursday as trading barreled to a record.

Attention was drawn to savings-and-loan holding companies by a report that S-&L Associations had a net savings gain of $736 million in May.

One of the S-&L's, Great Western Financial, was the volume leader as it advanced a full point. It was helped toward top ranking by a block of 59,800 shares at 21, up 1/2.

Montgomery Ward, which traded about unchanged, was boosted to second place in volume with the help of a block of 59,100 shares, unchanged at 32 1/2.

Up 1.33

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.33 at 901.53, well below its initial gain of 3.91.

Among other very active issues, Magnavox and Great American Holdings rose about 2 each, Virginia Electric Power and Occidental Petroleum more than a point each.

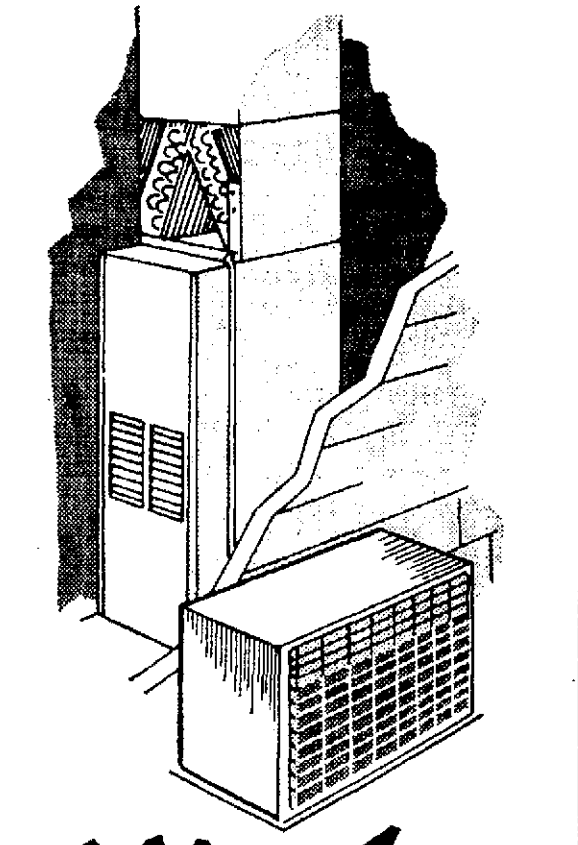

IBM gained 7, Xerox 6. Public Service Electric & Gas and Du Pont about 2 each, Southern California Edison, American Smelting and Royal Dutch 1 each.

Raytheon lost about 4 points, Phelps Dodge nearly 2.

Big Falls Area Man To Oppose Laird

Lawrence Dahl Is Democratic Candidate in Seventh District

WAUPACA — Lawrence Dahl, a Waupaca County farmer from the Big Falls area, announced Wednesday that he will seek the Democratic nomination for the 7th District congressional seat. The post is now held by Melvin Laird, a Republican from Marshfield.

Dahl said he had not reached his decision to make abid for the congressional post until this week although his name was mentioned as a possible candidate at the Seventh District Democratic Party's annual convention last month at Clintonville.

Active in the Democratic party for several years, Dahl is presently the Waupaca County Democratic party vice chairman; he has been on the state administrative board for the party for the past four years, and this year is serving as chairman of the platform committee on agriculture. In 1966 he was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for the Waupaca County assembly seat when he opposed G. K. Anderson.

NFO Chairman

An active member in the National Farmers Organization, (NFO), Dahl is county president of the organization and chairman of the Seventh District for five years. He also has been a member of the Marion Board of Education for seven years.

Dahl indicated that his chances of unseating Laird were slim in a strong Republican area. However, he said "the party needs a full slate of candidates, and although there are several good Democrats in the district, several hold assembly seats and it would be inadvisable to run them against Laird and lose the assembly seat."

"I am used to working for a minority cause and if I am defeated I will always be able

War Veterans Over 65 Will Get Disability Pay

Needy veterans in Wisconsin who have wartime service and are 65 years of age or older may qualify for a Veterans Administration disability pension without proving a specific disability. Joseph J. Mulone, manager of the Milwaukee VA office has announced.

For VA pension purposes, wartime veterans are considered by law to be totally and permanently disabled at age 65. Mulone said this makes such veterans eligible for pensions at the rates authorized for other needy veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from causes unrelated to military service.

Currently, a veteran without dependents must have an annual income of less than $1,800 to be eligible for a pension. The limit for veterans with dependents is $3,000, he said.

However, under a law signed recently by President Johnson, all income limits are to be increased $200 a year beginning Jan. 1, 1969, and most payments will be increased under a scale computed by $100 income increments.

Joint Zoning Body Named At Little Chute

Group Authorized to Work With Town Of Vanden Broek

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night authorized formation of an extra-territorial zoning committee to work with a similar body from the Town of Vanden Broek on zoning problems affecting both municipalities.

Trustee Joseph Verstegen was named to represent the board on the committee and two members are to be selected from the village planning commission. Officials of the Town of Vanden Broek also will appoint a three-man committee to work with the village group.

A request from Barney Hietpas for the rezoning of 16 lots in the Florida Heights plat from single family to two-family residential was referred to the planning commission for study and recommendation.

Bids Awarded

Three quotations were received for repairing roofs on the village hall, No. 1 and 2 pumping stations, the park shelter house and No. 1 reservoir. Low bid of $3,504.22 by Texas Oil and Refinery Co., De Pere, was accepted for the work. One bid was incomplete and the second low bid was for $3,600.

Village Clerk Gerald Loy was authorized to purchase a complete set of the Wisconsin

Administrative Codes at an estimated cost of $100.

McMahon Associates Inc., Menasha, village engineers, were authorized to contact Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. to inform them the village board is not satisfied with the lettering and Zip Code numbers on the new water tower, and to learn whether anything could be done to remedy the situation.

Lettering does not appear on "very professional" board members say and the numbers are too small to be read.

2 Boys Hurt In Falls at High Cliff

An 11-year-old Boy Scout, Jay Kraemer of Wauwatosa, is still in intensive care at St. Elizabeth Hospital after a 40-foot fall off a cliff at High Cliff State Park about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. He suffered a concussion, broken hand and possible internal injuries.

The lad was on a bicycle hike with 15 troop members from Wauwatosa and was looking for firewood when he fell. The troop was camping at High Cliff.

Park attendants and an ambulance crew brought him up the side of the cliff in a basket carrier and took him to the hospital.

A second boy fell from the cliff Wednesday. Glenn Keyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Keyes, 306 Caroline St., Neenah, received a gash in the back of the head and broken tooth when he fell about 10 feet.

He was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital by his parents, where he was treated and released. Richard Werblow, park attendant, rescued the boy.

Both Drivers Negligent in 1966 Mishap

Jury Decides in Case of Hortonville, New London Drivers

Both drivers involved in a May 4, 1966 accident that injured a rural Hortonville man were negligent in causing the mishap, a 12-member Circuit Court jury ruled Tuesday following a two-day trial before Judge Andrew W. Parnell.

Dale F. McKellips, 32, route 1, Hortonville, brought a $75,000 personal injury suit against Arden A. Brasch, 38, route 2, New London, in whose car he was a passenger, and Janiece Pelner, 1470 Glenview Drive, Neenah, driver of the second car involved in the accident. The two motorists' insurance companies also were named in the suit.

The jury found that Mrs. Pelner was 85 per cent negligent and Brasch was 15 per cent negligent in causing the accident at Outagamie County Trunks 00 and E. just north of Appleton.

The jury also ruled that McKellips was entitled to $11,000 for personal injuries; $1,735 for loss of earnings, and $450 for loss of revenue from a garden from which he sold fruits and vegetables. The court, which further ruled that McKellips should receive $566 for hospital, medical, therapy, drugs and other miscellaneous expenses, will make final determination on the granting of damages, since the jury delivered a split verdict.

Several other persons also were injured in the 1966 accident.

Appleton Woman Is Jailed by Village Justice

LITTLE CHUTE — Carol M. Krause, 19, 219 E. Coolidge St., Appleton, was sentenced to 20 days in the Outagamie county jail when she was unable to pay fines amounting to $55 imposed Tuesday night by Municipal Justice Raymond Sanders.

Miss Krause was arrested for speeding at 1:15 a.m. on June 13 and when she failed to appear in court Monday, she was cited for contempt of court and a warrant was issued for her arrest. Kaukauna police picked her up Tuesday and she was turned over to village police.

She was found guilty of speeding and contempt of court and was fined $45. When she began talking back to the judge a second contempt of court charge was lodged and she was fined another $10.

Woman Complains Of Whiplash After Kaukauna Accident

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. Cleon Huss, 206 E. Ninth St., complained of a whiplash injury when the car in which she was riding with her husband, 40, was involved in an accident about 7:10 p.m. Tuesday.

According to police, Huss was traveling east on Second Street when a woman and two children ran in front of his car forcing him to hit the brakes suddenly and his vehicle was struck from behind by an auto driven by Michael Pleshek, 18, 1200 Main Ave.

Damage was estimated at over $300 and the woman was advised to see her family doctor.

Neenah Youth Charged in Fatal Accident

Daniel Piette, 18, Faces Two Counts of Negligent Homicide

CHILTON — Daniel Piette, 18, 1014 Bayview Road, Neenah, driver of a car involved in an accident in which two of his passengers were killed, was charged in Calumet County Court this morning with two counts of negligent homicide.

Piette's attorney entered a plea of innocent in his client's behalf and requested a 12-man jury trial. County Judge D. H. Sebora granted the jury trial request and transferred the case to Circuit Court. Trial is expected in late July. Judge Sebora set bond at $500.

Charges against Piette stemmed from an accident at 2:30 a.m. Dec. 29 at the intersection of S. Madison Street (State 57 — U. S. 151) and Chestnut Street. Killed in the crash were Terry Lee Handler, 18, 1099 Laurel Court, Neenah; and James L. Reiter, 19, 416 Nicolet Ave., Menasha.

The Piette automobile, according to reports, was moving north on S. Madison and collided with an semi-trailer truck traveling south and making a left turn onto Chestnut Street.

Piette was hospitalized for several weeks with compound leg fractures and internal injuries.

Preliminary Sketches Plamann Lake Plans Shown to Supervisors

Preliminary sketches for the beach area covers about five acres. It would be built in the hollow west of Plamann School. The dike will be 20 feet wide on top and blend into the hillside on the north. Water at the west end will be 14 feet deep and gradually will become shallower on the beach end. Geiger indicated the Soil Conservation Service will lay out the grades and supervise the project. Digging is expected to start during the summer's dry period, probably in late July or early August. The facility is expected to be ready for use in 1969.

In other action the committee recommended to the personnel committee the hiring of Stanley Perkins, Dale, as custodian-care taker at Plamann Park to replace Ben Jenkel. If approved at the personnel committee meeting Thursday afternoon, Perkins would start July 1.

Perkins is a former supervisor and chairman of the board's agriculture and extension education committee.

Man Sent to Prison for Taking Car

Daniel Schadt, 52, of Milwaukee, who on June 3 was found guilty of taking an Appleton postal worker's car without consent was sentenced to 18 months in the state prison at Waupun Tuesday afternoon. Schadt had pleaded no contest to a charge of taking a 1959 station wagon owned by Theodore Vonck, 519 W. Spring St., on April 23. The auto was taken from the post office parking lot, was involved in hit and run accidents near Appleton and West Bend, and was abandoned in a wrecked condition near Menomonee Falls. Schadt was taken into custody early April 25 in Menomonee Falls. Schadt had pleaded innocent and was scheduled to stand trial June 3, the day he changed his plea. He also had pleaded innocent but changed his plea to no contest on a charge of hit and run, stemming from the accident with Vonck's car the afternoon of April 23 at State and U.S. 10. He struck the rear of a car owned by Harold C. Strey, route 2, Hortonville. Schadt had a court-appointed attorney.

Search for Missing Heir Reaches Into Fox Valley Area

There may be a woman in the Fox Valley area who is an heir to a $35,000 estate in Tucson, Ariz. She is approximately 75 years of age and her maiden name was Edna Kreft. Gordon L. Cox, probate generalist, 302 W. Elm St., Tucson, is conducting the search. He specializes in tracing missing relatives to settle estates. His search for the former Edna Kreft is based on faint clues a half-century old. "The married name of the Edna Kreft for whom we are searching," Cox said, "is unfor-for descendants of pioneers and long-time residents of Wisconsin who may have known Edna Kreft and her married name. He would like to know where she may have moved to help her claim her inheritance. She may have had children who also might qualify.

Airport Needs Land, Farmer Wants Money

grade work for the extension of the runway is scheduled to start Monday and because he has a work order contract, wants to move his machinery onto the land.

Stand of Hay Bloomer is concerned with a 10-acre section with a substantial stand of hay.

Rathsack rents the land from the county at $800 a year. He is asking for $12.60 an acre for 14 acres of alfalfa seed, or $176.40, $3.40 an acre for 25 acres alfalfa seed of $235.20, or $411.60, and the remainder is comprised of a $320 refund he wants for his hay crop.

Committee Chairman Pat Mares, Appleton, said, "There must be a lack of communication somewhere because this is the first time its been called to my attention."

Ponath explained that he talked to Charles Olson, airport manager, and Rathsack within 48 hours when the farm-er's demands were made known.

No Written Notice However, it was pointed out that Rathsack was not given a 60-day written notice to vacate the land and prior to termination of the lease, Rathsack was said to have paid a down payment on his rent.

Bloomer was assured by the committee that his contract for grading was valid and to go ahead with the work.

In the meantime, the committee will attempt to work out a settlement with Rathsack.

Council Mulls New Type of Budget Process

the city council before publication, public hearing and adoption.

Should the council decide to change the budgeting procedure, it will require an amendment to the municipal code.

The resolution said that since the mayor's office now carries with it a four-year term the scrutinizing of budget requests from various department heads, boards and commissions should be undertaken by a fulltime official (mayor).

It was contended more time could then be devoted during the fiscal year to control city expenditures.

Budgeting is on a calendar year basis. There was no clause in the resolution calling for a change to a fiscal year operation.

Strengthen Mayor

Resolution signers also said the proposed new budget preparation system would strengthen the office of mayor in Appleton.

The city, like most others in Wisconsin, has what is called a weak mayor, strong council form of government by virtue of its makeup and legislative and executive authority.

Some of the "executive budget" advocates said they had in mind the type of system in effect at Green Bay.

Under the present setup departmental requests are screened by the director of finance and then go to the finance committee, which conducts hearings and makes revisions.

A final budget proposal is then recommended to the city council by the finance committee.

However, the mayor has veto powers, which he would still maintain.

Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary presented a hat show at the Monday evening meeting of the senior Auxiliary.

Mrs. Sherman Kapp, convention auxiliary chairman, called for additional volunteers for the July convention to be held in Appleton. Volunteers should contact Mrs. Kapp and kitchen volunteers should contact Mrs. Lawrence Spielbauer.

An executive board meeting is planned at the clubhouse at 7:15 p.m. Monday.

The next meeting of the Outagamie County Council is planned at Seymour in September.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to junior members Mary Hemling, Carla Hemling, Martha Hemling, Deann Weese, Wendy Weese, Mary Heegeman, Becky Kriehn and Jerlene Kriehn.

Six junior members attended the state convention at Kimberly June 8. Unit flag bearers were Deann Weese and Carla Hemling. Marcia Luedtke presented the unit report. Mrs. James O. Schroeder was convention secretary and Mrs. Kapp directed the convention processional.

Go Fly a Kite The Safe Way

Kite flying, a universally beloved sport, is not without hazard. This warning comes from New York City's Safety Council which urges the following precautions:

Avoid tying metallic string to kites. When such string comes into contact with power lines the result can well be injury to the kite flyer and occasionally even death through electrocution.

Fly kites in open places such as parks or fields. "Getting a kite aloft usually involves some running, often backwards," the council notes, "and this can lead to running into a car, another person, or a fixed object."

Never fly a kite from a rooftop. One misstep -- and your kite flying days may be ended permanently.

Miss Wisconsin Pageant in Oshkosh Beauties Win Preliminary Contests in State Competition

BY EDITH BOCK
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
OSHKOSH — Preliminary competition in the 1968 Miss Wisconsin pageant opened here Wednesday evening with a series of catchy songs and dance routines as showcase for what must be as engaging a crop of pretty girls as the state has ever gathered together.

The show is titled "A Wonderful Wisconsin Day" and opening night was wonderful for the audience filling the 2,500 seat auditorium. The show will be repeated with variations tonight and Friday at 8 p.m., followed by Coronation Evening Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Two winners in initial competitions were crowned, as well as judge pleasers.

Deanna Jane Schneider, Miss Mishicot, won her section of the talent presentations with a sound interpretation of "O Mio Bambino Caro," the one classical selection of the 13 talented girls.

Slender, brown-eyed Donna Mae Sobkowiak, Miss Wausau, carried off the top spot in her section of the swim suit preliminary.

Divided into Groups
The 39 contenders for the 1968 Miss Wisconsin crown are divided into three groups, each presented Wednesday through Friday in one of the three preliminary sections of evening dress talent, and swim suit.

"Faith in a dream and your own abilities" brought the girls here, charming Jayne Anne Jayroe, Miss America 1967, told the audience. As mistress of ceremonies, her slender blossom pink gown and warm smile complimented the pink chiffon swags draped from massive white pillars and held with golden crowns, stage setting for the opening number.

The whole posed against a pale green was centered with a sweep of crimson carpet to the Miss Wisconsin throne, occupied currently by Barbara Baugh, star of the pageant.

Other guest stars of the show are Betty Lynn Buckley, Miss Fort Worth, 1966; Terry Meeuw- talen presentations with aisen, Miss Green Bay; Kathryn Haaker, Miss Sheboygan; and Chris Leich Tamer, Miss Ozaukee County, all of the 1967 pageant.

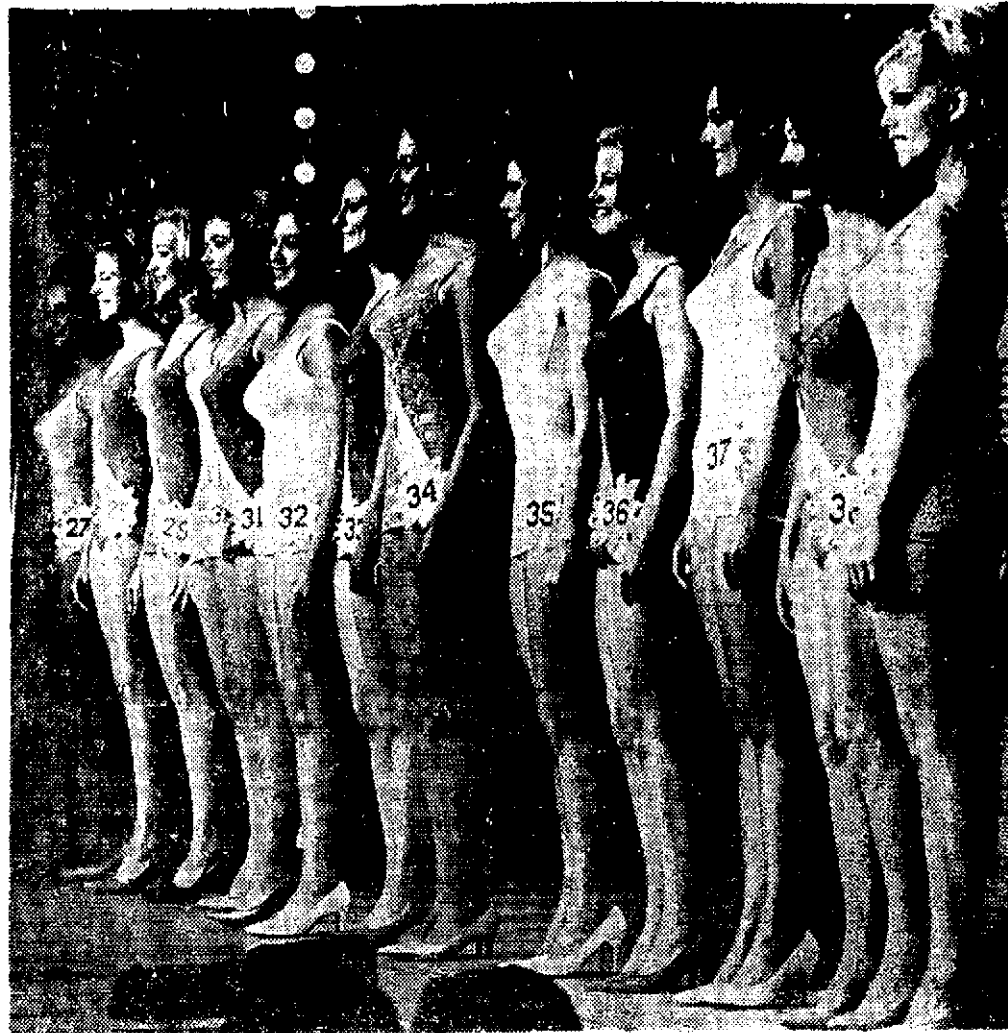

Bill O'Brien is pageant vocal- list, and dance routines are executed by a quintet of light-footed youngsters and the Oshkosh High School Pom Pom Girls.

Opens With Parade
Wisconsin's reigning queens, the Miss Wisconsin contenders, presented Wednesday through Friday in one of the three preliminary sections of evening dress talent, and swim suit.

Show numbers included Miss Baugh's several solos, each a polished performance. Miss Jayroe sang the contestants through their paces with consid- erable poise, and Miss Buckley, the audience. As mistress of ceremonies, her slender blossom pink gown and warm smile complimented the pink chiffon swags draped from massive white pillars and held with golden crowns, stage setting for the opening number.

BY ALFRED SHENWOLD

Bridge is not a rich man's game: there are millions of poor players. For example, take the poor fellow who played today's hand at six hearts.

The bidding was quite stylish. North could afford to bid four diamonds on the way to four hearts. If South happened to be interested in a slam, he would be interested to learn that North had the ace of diamonds and strong heart support.

Both features interested South, and he jumped to slam without asking any further questions. He might have asked whether he was the right person to play the hand.

Declarer took the first diamond, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the king of clubs and tried a finesse with the jack of clubs. This lost to the queen, and South eventually lost a spade trick as well. Down one.

Forced Lead
After drawing trumps South should cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, lead a trump to dummy and ruff the queen and ten of clubs.

last diamond. Then South takes the ace of spades and gets out with a spade.

If East held the kind of spades he would have no safe return. A club return would give dummy a free finesse; any other lead would give South a ruff-and-sluff.

As it happened, West had the king of spades and could lead a club through dummy. Declarer could play low from dummy, and East's queen would be trapped.

Even if East had the ten of clubs, South would still be in position to try a finesse with the jack of clubs. South would go down only if West had the king of spades and East had both the trump to dummy and ruff the queen and ten of clubs.

Geraniums Pretty In Large Groups

Geraniums are most attractive in mass groupings. If you have a window with full southern exposure, there's nothing as vivid as four or five of these clay-potted plants, with matching saucers, in shades of red and pink or salmon and white.

Ann Urges Husband to See Doctor; Lose Excess Weight

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've read dozens of letters in your column from wives who are miserable because they are overweight. They say their husbands make insulting remarks, that they have tried every diet under the sun, but when they become unhappy they eat and then they become fatter and unhappier I feel awfully sorry for these gals and I am not defending them. What I'm writing about is the other side of the coin. Fat husbands.
How can a woman get excited over a man whose belly hangs over his belt and whose second chin wears out his good silk neckties? My husband was the sweetest and the handsomest man in town when we married 18 years ago. Today he's still a sweet guy but he's a fat slob. When he tries to kiss me, 50 pounds of excess groceries get in the way. He can't walk up a flight of stairs without running out of breath. It's pathetic.
Don't misunderstand me, Ann. I love my husband dearly and I'm not looking for a slimmer model, but when the man next door walks the dog in his tennis shorts and he's got a 32 waist and his tummy is flat as a breadboard — and then my hunk of lard says, "Honey, bend down and pick up the paper for me" — it's enough to make a girl cry.
Please print this, Ann. Maybe

Dear Chicken: Fifty pounds of excess groceries can do more than kill a romance. It can kill a guy. Urge your husband to see a doctor and get himself down to normal proportions. He'll feel better as well as look better. And he'll last longer.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We hear a lot these days about delinquent children. But what about delinquent parents? Mom and Dad fight like cats and dogs. I wish I had a dollar for every time we kids had to separate them and beg them to stop yelling so we could get some sleep.

Dad's favorite gag is to take embarrassing pictures of Mom and pass them around to friends when they go to a party. Once he caught a picture of her while she was asleep, with her mouth open. Another time he took a picture of her from behind. She was washing the kitchen floor in an old bathing suit and tennis shoes.
Last week Mom put a rubber snake in the medicine chest and when Dad opened up the chest the snake popped out and he darned near had a heart attack. There are five kids in our family and we are raising each

Dean Martin Looks Back To 1930 Era

BY TV SCOUT
9-10 Channels 4-5 — Dean Martin Presents the Goldiggers is a fast-paced, pleasant look back at the 1930s. Frank Sinatra Jr. and Joey Heatherton are the stars with Paul Lynde a "special guest star" and support from Barbara Heller, Skiles and Henderson, and Stu Gilliam. There are some standard bits: the opening has the cast dismantling a 1968 car and turning it into a 30's roadster.
Where Are They Now has all the principals dressed like kids and pretending to be little Johnny Carson, little Ed Sullivan, little Richard Nixon, little Everett Dirksen etc.; the finale is built around Joey and Frank listening to an old record. Tonight it's Shirley Temple's voice, which leads to songs for which she was noted. Lynde does three skits: as a "robber" bank teller, as a husband celebrating his anniversary on the day prohibition is repealed and as Superman, unable to convince anyone who he is.

6:30-7:30 Channel 5 — Daniel Boone finds himself in a pretty desperate race with time in a suspenseful episode. He's on a ship carrying supplies to a besieged fort with complications including a mutinous crew, a pair of escaped convicts, a British cannon and a young officer on his first mission. (C-R)

7-7:30 Channels 11-9 — The very silliness of The Flying Nun should make you laugh. Sally Field, on a desperate flight to take some papers to the Mother Superior in St. Thomas, is blown off course and lands on an island where a gaggle of gangsters is making plans to knock off a gaggle of rival gangsters. (C-R)

6:30-8 Channels 2-12 — Cimarron Strip has a memorable, excellent Western which makes a lot of comment about the tragedy of defeated Indians and the ease with which old wounds can be opened. It's about a Wild West show with a recreation of "the battle of Bloody Stones" that arouses the area's young whites to "harmless violence" and infuriates the young Indians. (C-R)

7:30-8:30 Channels 4-5 — Ironside has a good episode which brings back the basic conflict between Raymond Burr and Don Mitchell. Mitchell recognizes an "old friend," a neighborhood big shot who used to buy the slum kids ice cream sticks. Now the man is a suspect in a gang killing but, despite Burr's warnings, Mitchell refuses to believe his old friend is involved. (C-R)

8-8:30 Channels 11-9 — That girl has fun with computer-arranged dates. Ted Bessell is working on a story about them and he must date the computer's version of his ideal girl (C-R)

8:30-9 Channels 4-5 — Dragnet 1968 has another important contribution towards better understanding in a show that deals with departmental community relations. Mostly this one is aimed at establishing a better relationship between the police and Negroes — and it is not one-sided. (C-R)

Young Hobby Club Build a Toothpick Tower Higher Than Your Friends

BY CAPPY DICK

The idea of a toothpick is to see who among your family and friends can build the highest one before it topples. Materials needed are two blocks of Styrofoam an inch thick and a supply of toothpicks (Figure 1) Cut one block of Styrofoam into one-inch cubes. A construction unit will consist of one cube and a toothpick. Use the second block of Styrofoam as a base for the tower. Stick a toothpick into it and press a cube onto the other end. That represents the beginning of the tower.

Extend it upward by adding more cubes and toothpicks, using your engineering skill to go as high as possible without letting the tower collapse. You may find that instead of building straight up it will be easier to keep the tower in balance by weaving the construction from one side to the other as in Figure 2. Experimentation will show you which way will produce the best results.

'We Have Certain Moves,' Says NFLPA

NFL Owners Refuse to Negotiate on Economic Issues, Players Declare

By JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Writer

Though only about three weeks remain before the opening of summer training camp, the National Football League players' association remains optimistic that its stalemate with club owners can be broken.

That was the message brought Wednesday to the Left Guard Charcoal House by an NFLPA entourage enroute to Green Bay, the 16th and final stop in a tour of NFL cities. The group included Detroit's John Gordy, president; Dave Robinson, Packer player representative; Dan Shulman, labor counsel; and Mal Kennedy, director of business affairs.

The Lion's Gordy said he believes the differences between owners and players could be solved in one afternoon. The differences revolve around such player demands as a $15,000 minimum salary; $500 salary per exhibition game and an additional contribution into a pension fund by each club.

"No strike vote has been taken," according to Gordy. "But we won't stand pat. We'll have certain moves we can make."

The players' representatives indicated that the issue of money has now been overshadowed by another factor — the owners' refusal to agree to collective bargaining.

Change of Relationship
Gordy said that in the five meetings that have been held since the players' association received formal recognition in February, the owners have refused to negotiate meaningfully on economic issues.

Gordy and Shulman noted that the "change of relationship" between owners and players has possibly been a psychological block. What it amounts to, in Shulman's view, is that the owners are saying, "We would like to pay you more but we don't want you to tell us to pay you more."

"We intend to be reasonable," said Gordy. He added that NFL owners and players need mutual respect is needed on league president Art Modell in a

The strong young arms were at it again in the National League Wednesday night. A couple of strong old ones did pretty well, too.

Juan Marichal, who's pushing 30 years and maybe victories as well, won his 13th game and ninth straight, pitching San Francisco to a 5-1 victory over Philadelphia. El-dorado Bob Veale, all of 32, hurled a six-hitter and Pitts-

USTFF Asks For Parley On Track Feud

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The governing council of the U.S. Track and Field Federation made a final effort Wednesday night to settle its feud with the AAU.

In a telegram sent to the Senate Commerce Committee, the council asked that a committee conference be called to settle differences.

"We believe that in the interest of establishing the basis for a voluntary solution, it is possible at this time to obtain mutually acceptable arrangements through consultative effort," the telegram said.

The council urged that the committee call and preside over a joint meeting of predetermined number of AAU and Track and Field Federation delegates.

Authorized to appoint a delegation was Wayne Cooley of Des Moines, who was elected to succeed the Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley, S.J., of Las Altos, Calif., as council president. The telegram was sent to Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash.

recent letter, are relatively minor, according to Gordy. One is to increase the minimum salary to $10,000 and, according to Gordy, no one in the league made less than that last year.

Another concession is to pay moving expenses for players traded during the season. "How many players are traded once the season starts?" asked Gordy.

All Players Belong
All NFL players belong to the association, said Gordy, and 99 per cent of them would vote to "do something" if the owners don't make a negotiation move.

Including taxi squad players, more than 700 belong to the association, Gordy pointed out. He said big-salary players such as Bart Starr, Johnny Unitas, Fran Tarkenton, Frank Ryan, and Don Meredith are all active supporters of the organization.

Last year, 17 per cent of the NFL players received less than $15,000, Gordy reported. Fifty per cent received less than $19,500, he added.

Shulman told of the group's "5-for-8" plan. Each club representative appoints five sub-representatives, and each of these has eight players to contact. "By chain phone calls, we can reach all league players in a day to determine their feelings," said Shulman.

The NFLPA group complained that the representation of some clubs' total income has been misleading. There are such things as tax shelters, depreciations, and large executive salaries, as well as the creation of a separate corporation for concession and parking revenue.

Mays Ties Mark
The Giants' ace had help against Philadelphia from another elderly operative—Willie Mays. The Amazing one slashed according to Shulman. He estimated that the average annual earnings per club range from $600,000 to $850,000. "We want to take an intelligent look at the books, but so far we've been denied it," Shulman noted.

Carlton, 32, allowed only a fourth inning single by Glenn Beckert and hurled his fourth shutout. He struck out nine and permitted just four base runners.

Orlando Cepeda provided all the offense Carlton needed, hammering a three-run homer in the bottom of the third inning against loser Rich Nye. It was Cepeda's eighth homer of the season.

Veale outpitched another of the strong young arms — Los Angeles' Bill Singer — as the Pirates beat LA with a Dodger-like attack.

11 Players Leave

Wholesale Shakeup Made by the Foxes

Wholesale shakeup was the order of the day Wednesday, as a total of 21 charges were made on the Appleton Foxes' roster. Nine players were sent elsewhere in the White Sox farm system, while one was given his outright release and another decided to give up baseball because of arm trouble.

Sent to the Duluth club were pitchers Steve O'Neill and Willie Garrison, infielders Danny Haynes and Jeff Kolb, and outfielders Karl Simon and Scott Northey. Outfielders Felix Figueroa and Edito Artega, plus infielder Raphael Lopez, went to Sarasota. The released player was pitcher Bob Koppers, and Mike Vickers, also a pitcher, the retired player.

The switches provide openings on the squad for new players who have just finished college, recently signed contracts, were released from the army, or were outrighted. Newcomers include pitchers John Hankhammer, Orville Hollrah, Neil Weber, and Roger Benko; infielders Jerry Boehmer, Mickey Vandelley, and Jeff Hansen; and outfielders Marty Morrison and Ben Farrell.

Pitchers not currently on the roster but who will pitch in the Chicago White Sox game June 27 are Dan Neumeier, Dennis Deck and Bart Johnson.

Infielder Stu Singleton, who played with the Foxes last year, is slated to join the Foxes Saturday after a year in college.

Mauch Refuses to 'Knock' Allen, Eyes Baseball Job

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'm not knocking Richie Allen," he said. "That son-of-a-gun gave me many a thrill." As for the Phillies firing him while he was in California at the bedside of his ailing wife, Mauch said there was no other way to handle the situation.

"When two people know something there is no secret. Bob and John made up their minds to fire me. They had to get some body and had to tell the guy."

"It made me almost ill to hear the organization rapped. It would have been 10 times worse if I heard it elsewhere." Mauch said he hopes to remain in baseball. "Number one, of course, you have to be offered a job. But I don't intend to stay out of baseball unless baseball stays away from me."

"Greatest way of Life" "I want to be in uniform on a baseball field. It's the greatest way of life."

Mauch said, however, he hadn't talked with a soul about a job. "Until I got in the plane Monday to come back to Philadelphia I hadn't given one thought to my future. I was allowed just two runners as far as I was concerned in the Senators to their eighth straight defeat."

Uhlender homered and Jackie Hernandez singled in two more runs for the Twins in the seventh.

Pinch hitter Floyd Robinson gave Oakland its victory when he broke a 3-3 tie with a two-run double in the seventh. The hit came off relief pitcher Roger Nelson with two out and the bases loaded via walks to Rick Monday and Reggie Jackson sandwiched around Sal Bando's double.

All three Baltimore runs off Jim Hunter, who went the distance, were unearned. California gained its victory on Steve Barber's wildness, a double and an error. With one out in the ninth, Barber issued his 10th walk to pinch hitter

Coach Chuck Fairbanks, whose Oklahoma Sooners won the Big Eight title, and coach Howard Stehm of Schofield's Everest High School, also will participate in the football clinic.

The basketball clinics will be conducted by coaches Fred Taylor of Ohio State, John Powless of Wisconsin, and Ed Fleener of Manitowish High School.

Burlington's Vida Blue Faces Only 23 Batters in Hitless 7-Inning Tilt; Kokor Loses, 1-0

By RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Appleton's staggering Foxes in the throes of their worst slump of the season, reached a new peak of frustration at Goodland Field Wednesday night as they dropped a pair of shutouts to Burlington — including a 4-0 no-hitter by the Bees' young southpaw, Vida Blue.

Right-hander Dennis Coull followed Blue's performance with a nifty 4-hit, 1-0 verdict in the second game to give the Bees the sweep of the twin bill. Coull also drove in the tilt's only run with a double off loser Steve Kokor in the fifth inning.

The two defeats were the fifth and sixth in succession for the Foxes, who sank to a 21-28 record and in seventh place in the Midwest League's first-half race. Appleton will try again to snap its loss streak tonight when it meets the Bees in a single contest at 7:45 p.m.

Faces Only 23
Blue, an 18-year-old rookie from Shreveport, La., became the first pitcher to toss a no-hitter in the ML this season as he set down the Foxes on an assortment of fast balls and curves in the 7-inning game. He faced 23 men — just two over the minimum — and was helped by one double play and errorless support behind him.

The solid 5-11, 190-pound lefty never gave himself a chance for a perfect game, as he walked the first two batters he faced in the first inning, and also issued single passes in the third and fourth frames. After Hal Caldwell drew the fourth base on balls with one out in the fourth, Blue retired the last 11 hitters in a row.

There were three anxious moments for Blue on infield ground balls. In the second, shortstop Jim Hughes threw out the Foxes' Ben Farrell (one of several new team members) on a tough chance behind second base. Third-baseman Marty Olson had to make a backhanded stop of Jeff Hansen's grounder in the fourth, and Blue had to knock down Gary Kirtlan's comebacker before making the play at first in the sixth.

In the bottom of the seventh, Blue withstood the pressure well. He got Rich Severson on a soft fly to right, then struck out Art Kusmyer and Jeff Hansen. He went to 3-and-2 on Kusmyer and 1-and-2 on Hansen.

Burlington picked up the only run it needed to win in the fourth off Marior's Ken Frailing (0-1). George Hendricks, the Bees' lanky right-hander, romped home from third when an attempted force play at second went awry.

Hendricks, who went 3-for-3 in the initial game, sent Frailing to the showers in the fifth. The Bees loaded the bases with nobody out, and Hendricks then rapped a double to the wall in right center to score Sam Lovelace and Hughes. Reliever Bill Cole gave up a sacrifice fly to Joe Tassone before getting the side out.

Leo Rodriguez singled home two California runs in the third. Joe Pepitone homered in the fourth and Jake Gibbs in the seventh off winner Sammy Ellis to tie it for the Yankees

Ken Harrelson's hitting overcame five Boston errors and led the Red Sox past Detroit. Harrelson singled home a run in the first and put Boston ahead 5-4 with a three-run homer, his 15th in the seventh. The Red Sox added three unearned runs in the eighth.

Willie Horton hit his 18th homer and Norm Cash also belted one for Detroit.

Luis Tiant registered his 10th victory against five losses for Cleveland by setting the White Sox down on three hits.

Russ Snyder and Tony Horton broke a 1-1 tie with RBI singles in the Cleveland seventh. Chicago had taken a 1-0 lead on pitcher Bob Priddy's homer in the fifth, and Cleveland tied it in the sixth on a walk, a wild pitch and Duke Sims' double.

Bob Schroeder of Medina, Wins KK's Feature Race

BY TOM VERHAGEN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Bob Schroeder of Medina, grabbing the lead on the first lap, hung on to with the 25-lap quarter-mile feature event Wednesday night at the KK Sports Arena.

Following Schroeder, were Appleton's Ray Langner and Ron Van Roy of Darboy.

On the first lap of the semi-feature, five cars tangled on the No. 1 turn, eliminating four of the 12 starters.

Chuck Ewald was one of the first to spin, causing Appleton's Stan Riska to broad-slide. Riska took to the infield after being hit in the front and the rear, causing his gas tank to rupture, which in turn had to be burned from the track and the infield.

After the dust settled and the smoke rose, Cliff Hanagan of the smoke rose. Cliff Hanagan of the smoke rose. Cliff Hanagan of the smoke rose. Cliff Hanagan of the smoke rose. Cliff Hanagan of the smoke rose.

In the heat races, the first 10-lap event was won by Hanagan, added bonus, a 10-lap Powder with Dick Jenneman of Appleton al manager, admitted the tossing of bottles, firecrackers and beer cans was worse in Detroit than other American League cities.

"But you can't frisk 30,000 people," said Campbell. "Part all the time, Detroit is the only town in the league where this happens. You don't get that stuff in the rest of the league."

Harrelson said fans bombarded left fielder Joe Lahoud and centerfielder Reg Smith with beer cans and bottles in the late innings after Detroit had fallen behind 5-4 in the seventh on Harrelson's three-run homer.

With two out and two strikes on Don Wert in the Detroit ninth, the Detroit management announced the game would be forfeited unless fans stopped throwing things onto the field.

The public address announcement came after another firecracker exploded near Harrelson in right field. Wert struck out to end the game.

Tosses Glove

Harrelson tossed his glove down and began to walk off the field but was urged to return to his position by umpire Al Salerno.

"If there hadn't been two strikes on Wert I'd have walked off the field," said Harrelson. "This is ridiculous. There were six guys screaming and cursing in right field. With women and children standing there. . . and not a cop around."

"Last year in this park some guy threw a bolt at me. If it hit me in the head it could have killed me."

Red Sox Manager Dick Williams said he would have hated to see the game forfeited because all of the records for both teams would go down the drain.

"But Detroit ought to do something about it," he said. "They even threw one at Jim Northrup and he plays for Detroit."

"If they forfeited the game, I would have hated to take my team on the field tomorrow," said Williams. "If Detroit fans get that upset over a loss, what would they do with a forfeit?"

Mickey Lolich, one of the Detroit pitchers, said the fireworks were of the M 80 variety, cylindrical and about the size of a man's thumb.

"That kind has stuff like TNT in them," said Lolich, who is in the National Guard. "A guy doesn't need basic training. Just play the outfield in Detroit."

Bears Plan to Try Mike Hull At Tight End

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Southern California fullback Mike Hull, the No. 1 draft choice of the Chicago Bears, signed a playing contract Wednesday night with the Bears.

George Halas Jr., Bears president and general manager, announced the signing.

Halas said Hull, 22, will be trained to play tight end for the Bears. The terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Miss Sorensen Advances to Quarter-Finals

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Carol Jean Sorensen of Racine, Wis., moved into today's quarter finals of the 24th annual Women's National Collegiate Golf Tournament with a victory over Cindy Meyers of the University of Florida.

Miss Sorensen, from Arizona State, defeated Miss Meyers 3 and 2 in Wednesday's competition at Duke University.

The Wisconsinite faced Jane Bastanchury of Odessa in today's quarter finals. Miss Bastanchury was the tourney medalist last year.

second and Little Chute's Ed Stanley third.

The second heat was won by LaMace, Spoehr, second, and Ken Nimmer of Appleton, third.

The third heat found Schroeder in the top position, Van Roy, second, and Frank Dombrowski Jr., of Appleton, third.

Stu Nitzke, of Berlin, won the fourth heat, with Langner second and Earl Smudde of Oshkosh in the No. 3 spot.

The 15-lap, 16 car figure 8 event was won by Gib Simons of Kaukauna, after taking the checkered flag from "special" flagman Eddie Hoefler of Little Chute.

Hoefler, who was injured earlier in the season in a figure 8 event, was awarded the honor of flagman, as one of the largest turnout of Figure 8 cars of the year circled the track.

Fast time of the night on the quarter-mile track was turned in by Dombrowski, with a clocking of 16:78 seconds.

Next Wednesday night, as an added bonus, a 10-lap Powder Puff race will be staged.

Protection Device NFL, AFL Create an Inactive Player Class

NEW YORK (AP) — The National and American Football Leagues announced Wednesday the creation of an inactive player category to be used to protect players under contract whom the club does not wish to place on waivers.

Each league will operate under the same basic plan but there are differences between the leagues on the number of times such a list can be used and the amount of time a player can remain on the list.

The new inactive list will consist of a maximum of eight openings for each club in the AFL and six in the NFL during the regular season. Any player who is active at the start of a season can be placed on the list at any time without being subjected to waivers. He must remain inactive for four weeks in the NFL, 16 days in the AFL. At the expiration of the stipulated period, the club may make any one of four moves: (1) reactivate the player, (2) ask waivers on or trade him, (3) place the player on the reserve list or (4) again place the player on the inactive list for the stipulated time, thus using another of the positions on the list.

As has always been the case with players removed from the roster because of injury, all players placed on the special inactive list will continue to receive full salary, life insurance, medical and pension benefits. The inactive players also will be included among the 13 non-active players a club is permitted to have under contract for the succeeding season.

Killebrew Drives in 1,000th Run

Chance Records 100th Win

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Harmon Killebrew and Dean Chance reached personal milestones and Frank Quilici reached cloud 9 in Minnesota's 4-0 victory over Washington Wednesday night for the Twins' sixth straight victory.

Killebrew drove in the 1,000th run of his career for the Twins' first run in the fifth inning, while Chance notched his 100th

Snowmobile Use to Rise, Group Told

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Snowmobile use in the next five years will increase at least four fold, a safety review conference was told Wednesday.

Winter recreation officials from nine states and two Canadian provinces met in Milwaukee for an annual get-together sponsored by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the Department of the Interior.

They were to survey problems created by snow vehicles and other off-the-road vehicles on public lands

Roman H. Koenings of Ann Arbor, Mich., the bureau's Midwest director, stressed the need for noise control and safety in snow vehicles operations on the 20 million acres of public lands where snowmobiles are operated.

A spokesman for Polaris Industries of Roseau, Minn., a manufacturer of snowmobiles, said the noise level on most 1968 models has been reduced by at least 65 per cent. He said they now run quieter than most lawn mowers.

John Fleming, a director of the National Safety Council, said the council is beginning a program to publicize safety programs among groups representing almost a half million snowmobile and other off-the-road vehicle users.

major league victory with a three-hit, 10-strikeout performance.

Quilici, Minnesota's forgotten man until Rod Carew went away for two weeks of Marine Reserve duty, collected three hits in four times at bat, making him 11-for-19 since he began playing regularly at second base in the stretch drive.

Killebrew, who professes to pay scant attention to goals and records, admitted that bagging his 1,000th RBI "means a little extra."

Harmon quoted chapter and verse on his first major league RBIs.

Hits Double

"I hit a double to drive in two runs of Alex Kellner of the Athletics in old Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia in June 1954," Killebrew said.

"It was my third time at bat in the major leagues. I had pinch-hit twice, and this was the first game I started."

Killebrew was 17 years old when he drove in those first runs.

"It seems like a long time since the first one," he said. "It makes me feel like an oldie to him and not think."

Chance was nonchalant about his 100th victory, and he to lose it.

State Jurisdiction Urged Who Owns the Fish and Wildlife on Federal Lands?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wildlife on federal lands" Until spokesman for state fish and game agencies has urged Congress to declare the states own the fish and wildlife on federal lands.

Walter T. Shannon, director of the California Fish and Game Commission, commended a policy statement by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall declaring that the states have basically recognizing state laws regarding hunting and fishing and non-migratory wildlife.

But he said it did not go far enough. The council is beginning a program to publicize safety programs among groups representing almost a half million snowmobile and other off-the-road vehicle users.

New London '9' Wins Over Waupaca, 3-2

Baehman Wins Legion Pitching Duel From Tappa

NEW LONDON — A double steal in the first inning and an outfield error in the third enabled the New London Legion team to upset Waupaca, 3-2, in a Central Division Fox Valley Legion contest here Wednesday.

Greg Baehman was untouchable except for the fifth frame when the Waupacans pushed across both of their runs.

In the bottom of the first inning, Greg Wing was safe on a smash to third, Dave Moriarity singled and John Kaepernick singled home Wing. Kaepernick was forced at second base. Bob McIlraith raced into second as Moriarity delayed for a steal of home.

Kaepernick and Bill Rieckmann singled in the fifth and the run scored on a misplay by the Waupaca rightfielder.

Waupaca got on the scoreboard as Dennis Riddle singled between a pair of strikeouts, Doug Peterson walked and both runners scored when Bob Solberg's line drive to the right field wall glanced off the fielder's glove.

Baehman fanned six, walked three and was nipped for just four singles.

Loser Ken Tappa was touched for six hits — two each by Kaepernick and Moriarity — and struck out 13 and walked only one.

Step Up Search For De Kat

LONDON (AP) — An international search for missing yachtman Jean De Kat stepped up in the Atlantic at dawn today, with planes from three nations joining ships already in the area.

De Kat, French competitor in the single-handed trans-Atlantic race from Plymouth to Newport, R.I., radioed Tuesday that his three-hulled yacht, Yaksha, was breaking up about 600 miles west of Ireland.

Weather in the search area was reported reasonable and seas moderate. British Air Force experts believe De Kat could survive several days if his inflatable orange dinghy got away from the wreck safely.

U.S. and French Air Force planes joined Britain's Atlantic Patrol Shackletons in the search. One spotted plastic bags and driftwood floating in the area.

8 Wins Apiece Carlton Just Wanted to Match Briles' Record

By BEN BROWN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "I can't let Nellie get ahead of me," Steve Carlton said Wednesday night after he had pitched a brilliant 4-0, one-hit victory for the St. Louis Cardinals over the Chicago Cubs.

The win gave Carlton an 8-2 record and pulled him even in wins with teammate Nelson Briles, 8-5, who shutout the Cubs 1-0 Tuesday night. It was Carlton's fourth shutout this season.

Carlton, a 6-foot-4, lefthander, struck out nine and walked none in winning his first game since June 4.

Billy Muffett, Cardinal pitching coach, said Carlton "looked real, real good. His curve ball was really biting." Muffett said that Carlton had a full count on only two batters and threw only 102 pitches.

Beckert Raps Single

Manager Leo Durocher of the Cubs agreed that Carlton pitched a great game as Chicago extended its scoreless streak to 37 innings.

Glenn Beckert was the only Cub to get a hit—a clean single in the top of the fourth inning. "Beckert hit a fast ball," Carlton said after the game. "It was a good hit, although I thought the pitch was a ball."

Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer in the bottom of the third got Carlton an early lead and he was never in trouble. No runner reached second base as Carlton pitched the first one-hitter of his.

It was the Cardinals' fourth straight victory, enabling them to maintain their 5½ games lead over Atlanta.

Carlton, a 23-year-old pitcher from Miami, Fla., says he sticks mainly with a fast ball and curve.

Perhaps Carlton felt best about not allowing a base on balls. "I had real good concentration tonight," Carlton explained.

In his last start Carlton hit a homer against Atlanta but didn't get the pitching verdict. One of Carlton's first remarks after going hitless in four tries Wednesday night was, "Well, there goes my hitting streak."

Hurls 10th Win Tiant Making It Hot For American League

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO (AP) — The word last season was that Luis Tiant couldn't stand the heat. Now, the chunky Cleveland Indian pitcher is making it hot for the whole American League.

Tiant's slick three-hitter in a 3-1 decision over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday night gave the hurler from Havana 10th victory in 15 decisions.

That almost matches his 12 triumphs (against nine losses) all last season, when Tiant had a prolonged slump—supposedly because he wasn't a hot weather pitcher.

What's more, Luis, who now resides in Mexico City, has become a real route performer with 11 complete games against nine all last season.

"I feel strong this season, but not so much stronger than last year," said Tiant. "All around me, the team is strong too, making the big plays that help."

Does Luis, who never has won more than 12 games in any of four previous full seasons, think he can hit the magic 20-victory mark?

"Sure, I try to pitch 20 wins, and maybe as many more as I can," he grinned. "When you win, you take all you can get."

Manager Al Dark of Cleveland doesn't have the strongest bullpen in the league, but his starting corps—and especially Tiant—doesn't seem to need it.

30 Complete Games

Tribe hurlers have turned in 30 complete games, Tiant's 11 followed by Sam McDowell's seven and Sonny Siebert's six.

"When you got strong, experienced pitchers, you can afford to let them go and go," said Dark.

"Maybe the only starter I'll think about just getting six or seven good innings from is young Steve Hargan. It's a matter of pacing, and the old pros know how to pace themselves."

That certainly was true of batters reached base in the first inning.

Reed, who won his first six decisions and then dropped three in a row, finally won No. 7 by beating the Reds.

Felix Millan had four straight hits and Clete Beyer tagged a home run for the Braves.

Emerson Wins, Battles Graebner In Round of 8

BY GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON (AP) — The tennis pros and amateurs are busy getting acquainted in time for next week's Open Wimbledon—and the pros are getting a surprise or two.

Spanish professional Andres Gimeno was knocked out of the London Grass Courts Championship at Queen's Club Wednesday by American Marty Riessen.

who had never set eyes on him until 24 hours before the match. "This is one of the great things about open tennis," said Riessen, of Evanston, Ill.

"When you have been watching someone play for years you get a complex about him. Gimeno is one of the great names of world tennis, but I had never seen him until I arrived to play in this tournament, and I faced him with an open mind."

"I watched him win against Antonio Palafox of Mexico in the previous round and I decided the way to play him was to return his services low."

Does Just That, won 6-1, 10-8 and entered the quarter-finals where he is pitted against Alexander Metreveli of Russia.

It was the first time that Gimeno had lost to an amateur in four open tournaments.

Another professional, Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia was beaten 4-6, 4-6, by David Amateur Tom Okker.

Anything can happen in open tennis.

Arthur Ashe, U.S. amateur Davis Cup star from Richmond, Va., got the biggest cheer of the day when he climbed the ladder to umpire a match between two professionals, Roy Emerson of Australia and Roger Taylor of Britain.

"They were short of umpires," Ashe said. "I enjoy umpiring, so I volunteered."

Emerson won 6-4, 14-12 and will meet Clark Graebner, of New York in the round of eight today.

Graebner advanced by defeating Dick Crelly, Australia, 6-3, 8-6.

Burleson Won't Try for Olympic Berth Again

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — Dyrrol Burleson, two-time 1,500-meter Olympics competitor, said Tuesday he has given up trying for a third Olympic appearance in Mexico City this October.

In 1960, while attending the University of Oregon, Burleson became the second American to run the mile under four minutes.

Burleson said a leg muscle problem caused him to miss training time.

"I missed a couple of months of important training during the winter and that, coupled with being busy, didn't allow me to get back into top condition," he said.

House Tax Bill Okay Seems to be Assured

Study by Neutrals Asked for Pueblo

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean news agency said today that the United States has proposed to North Korea that the Pueblo crew be turned over to neutral nations for an investigation to determine whether they violated North Korean waters.

The Dongwha news agency quoted diplomatic sources as saying that the United States wants the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea to conduct the investigation.

U.S. authorities would not confirm the report. In Washington, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said on Wednesday that the United States made "certain proposals" to North Korea concerning the captured intelligence ship, and her crew on May 28, but so far North Korea has not responded.

The Dongwha report said the United States also told North Korea it would express "regrets" to the Communist government if the investigation by neutral nations proved that the Pueblo violated North Korean waters.

The North Korean Communist party's newspaper, Rodong Shinmoon, accused the United States today of stepping up its war efforts in Korea after the Pueblo was seized Jan. 23. But a broadcast of the article made no mention of the new U.S. proposals.

The Pueblo incident helped to touch off another U.S.-North Korean clash in Communist Poland, where the U.S. government temporarily closed its exhibit at the Poznan International Trade Fair to protest anti-American displays in the North Korean pavilion.

U.S. officials objected to photographs showing the crew of the Pueblo marching with their hands in the air, an officer of the ship allegedly signing a confession of guilt, and destroyed U.S. equipment and dead soldiers from the Korean war of the early 1950s.

The U.S. Embassy said it had complained to fair authorities, the Ministry of Foreign Trade and the Foreign Ministry but to no avail.

Senate, Assuming Passage Of Surcharge, Schedules Its Own Voting for Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge appears to have a safe but not overwhelming margin for passage as it comes before the House for a vote after a year of controversy and delay.

The Senate, anticipating House approval today, has scheduled its own vote Friday.

If the anticipated script is followed, everyone in the country who now has federal income tax deducted from his paycheck will find the tax bite 10 per cent bigger in about three weeks.

That means a worker now having $50 per week withheld for income tax would have $55 withheld until next June and possibly longer.

Mandatory Cut

Tied to the increase in taxes is a mandatory $6-billion cut in government spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Johnson fought the spending cut as excessive. But he finally agreed to the measure because of what he called the overriding need for more revenues to shrink a deficit estimated at $24 billion to $31 billion to check inflation and bolster the dollar internationally.

The Senate already has voted for a similar package, but must consider the final version.

For individuals, the effective tax increase this year would be 7.5 per cent of their total tax bill, because for them the surtax is retroactive to April 1. For corporations, it covers the full year 1968.

Extension Possible

As the bill is written, the surtax would expire June 30, 1969, but its principal architect, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has already raised the possibility of an extension if the nation cannot put its financial house in order by then.

Besides the income tax surcharge, the bill continues the excise tax on automobiles at 7 per cent and on telephone service at 10 per cent. Under the old law, they dropped to 2 per cent and 1 per cent respectively. The bill also provides a speedup of corporation tax collections.

The combined effect of the changes is estimated at a $15.2 billion revenue increase for the next fiscal year.

Other Legislation

Appropriations also are to be cut $10 billion under the budget estimates for the year and actual spending reduced $6 billion. Appropriations and spending do not match in any single year because of the stretchout of spending programs. If Congress does not make the full cuts and speedup, it won't the president must hold back expenditures to a greater risk than faced in coming up to the figures spelled out in the bill.

Johnson Signs 'More Good Than Bad' Anticrime Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A States becoming "a nation of crime control bill bearing Congress' first authorization of wiretapping, provisions limited Supreme Court rulings on criminal confessions and restrictions on the sale of guns, has been signed by President Johnson.

The bill contains "more good than bad," the President said Wednesday night as he signed the measure barely four hours before it would have become law if he had not acted.

"I believe that it is in America's interests that I sign this law," he said, although he warned against the wiretapping provisions leading to the United States becoming "a nation of eavesdroppers."

Johnson was urged to veto the bill by its opponents, who argued parts were unconstitutional and unwise. But congressional leaders predicted a veto would have been overridden.

The Senate passed the bill 72-4 and sent it to the House and an apparent rewriting in a conference committee when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was shot June 5 in Los Angeles. Within hours of Kennedy's death the next day, the House passed the bill without change 368-17 and sent it to the White House.

'Some Movement' in Talks Noted by Clifford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today there is "some movement" in the apparently stalled Paris peace talks between the United States and North Vietnam.

On the question of negotiations, the defense secretary, who is one of President Johnson's top advisers on Vietnam war policy, indicated he expects some real progress in working out a solution when the negotiators get into private talks.

He appeared to discount the value of the formal sessions, in which both sides have exchanged charges and demands and appeared to be giving virtually no ground.

Other Matters

On other matters, Clifford said "I'm not persuaded" that there were any North Vietnamese helicopters in the Demilitarized Zone area of South Vietnam.

He said he has sent questions to commanders there in an attempt to clear this up.

Said that, despite intensified enemy offensive activity in South Vietnam, he does not believe his commanders there will ask for more U.S. troops beyond the presently planned 550,000.

Indicated that as long as there is any hope that the North Vietnamese will eventually reciprocate, he believes President Johnson will not restore full-scale bombing of North Vietnam.

Vietnamese Army

Estimated that by the end of next year South Vietnam "will have a well-trained, well-drilled, effective army" of a million men.

Reported that "we have not gotten anywhere yet" in 17 meetings with North Korean representatives on the question of regaining the captured intelligence ship Pueblo and freeing its crew of 82 men. But "I am confident" the issue will be resolved.

He acknowledged the signs of progress may be slight, but said that "I believe that both sides are there to try to arrange an ultimate disposition to the conflict."

The defense secretary reported, at the same time, that North Vietnamese are pumping in replacements for men lost in combat in South Vietnam at a high level while the talks are going on.

Reporting at a news conference, he said that infiltration in May is estimated to have totaled about 29,000 men from North Vietnam into South Vietnam.

"This is about double the figures used by Gen. William C. Westmoreland for infiltration in April.

Clifford said about 26,000 of these May infiltrators were believed to be replacements for men who have fallen in battle.

Full Year Now Required for Combat Pilots

Fliers Previously
Were Sent Home
After 100 Missions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today that all pilots flying combat runs against North Vietnam will have to serve a full 12 months of duty, rather than leaving as soon as they complete 100 missions.

An Air Force spokesman said the action was taken to eliminate inequities between pilots who fly missions against North Vietnam and those who operate against targets only in South Vietnam.

Under the old system, the Air Force said, "some aircrew members were allowed to return from Southeast Asia upon completion of 100 combat missions over North Vietnam ..."

10 Months

Most pilots have been able to do this in about 10 months, the Air Force said, but there have been flyers who finished their duty in as little as eight months.

On the other hand, Air Force crewmen flying solely against targets inside South Vietnam had to serve a full year of combat duty, the usual length of time for most U.S. troops in the war, regardless of the number of missions, which sometimes mounted to 300.

The Air Force denied the new order has anything to do with a pilot shortage, but it appeared obvious that extending the tours would slow down personnel rotation and thus relieve the pressure to provide replacements.

The old system allowing pilots to leave the war zone after 100 missions regardless of time was flying against North Vietnam was considered a greater risk than faced in South Vietnam.

Leaders See Triumph In 'Solidarity Parade'

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — By the yardsticks of the men who planned it, the 1968 march on Washington was a triumph. The show of support for the Poor People's Campaign.

With little more than 10 days in which to organize "Solidarity Day," leaders Wednesday brought out an outpouring of black and white Americans, estimated by Washington police at 50,000, to surge around the foot of the Lincoln Memorial.

The crowd stood in the sun and heard campaign chief The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy vow to keep Resurrection City, the Shantytown set up to house the Poor People demonstration's capital to back up demonstrators, in Washington with or without the government permit what they considered a fundamental injustice.

In 1963, when the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. made his famous "I have a dream" speech, the issue was segregation, and three months of planning brought 200,000 people to stand along the banks of the Lincoln Memorial reflecting pool.

Wednesday the issue was different—an end to poverty and the difference was heard in the tone of the speeches, many bitter and accusatory.

End War

The massed thousands again shouted their approval to a plea by Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the man who conceived Wednesday's march, to end the Vietnam fighting, "the most brutal and evil war in history," and pour its costs into a total war against poverty.

The demonstrators carried hundreds upon hundreds of signs. "UAW Supports Bold Action to Abolish Poverty in this Land of Plenty," "Full Employment and Guaranteed Annual Income," "We march with John, Bobby and Martin for a Dream."

U.S. Fighting Hard Trying to Update Hanoi's Idea of World Opinion on War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

The U.S. delegation at the Vietnam talks in Paris is facing a tough, uphill struggle as it tries to convince North Vietnamese leaders that they are misreading American and world opinion.

If it succeeds at all, the delegation may be at the job for the rest of the summer.

The Americans appear convinced that the major reason for the deadlock is that North Vietnam is escalating the war in the South.

One reason why week-long recesses have been agreed to, the Americans say, is that the Hanoi delegation must check back with the ruling politburo in North Vietnam on virtually every word it says or intends to say in Paris.

The process involves regular meetings of the politburo each week to consider strategy and to assay the effects of each meeting upon world opinion.

The Americans say, however, that Hanoi is reading world and American opinion from its own vacuum, and is reading it wrong. The U.S. delegation members appear convinced that there has been a steady change in favor of the American side since President Johnson made his March 31 speech renouncing the bombing of North Vietnam to the panhandle below the 20th parallel and opening the way for the Paris talks.

Propaganda War

The talks, however, settled down into a propaganda war. The North Vietnamese delegation not only has rejected the offer of the chief U.S. negotiator, W. Averell Harriman, to change this, but has re-emphasized the propaganda aspects of the Paris conference.

A week ago, Harriman asked Xuan Thuy, chief of the Hanoi delegation, once again to abandon the practice of giving out prepared statements, full of accusations and vitriol, after each session, and to get down to less public negotiating. Thuy said he would take the proposal under advisement, and for the moment the Americans thought they might have made some progress.

If the proposal was taken under advisement, it went back during the week-long recess to the Hanoi politburo. The answer was more than plain as the delegation emerged from their ninth session Wednesday. Not only did the Hanoi delegation release yet another statement, but it did so even before the session ended, a new departure.

Battlefield Advantage

While the sparring goes on, Hanoi appears to hope for some sort of advantage on the battlefield in the South which would bring American and world opinion to bear on President Johnson to make concessions in Paris.

Hanoi apparently is bargaining talks.

Needs Assurance

The U.S. delegation, however, does not intend to do this without some reliable assurance that North Vietnam will do something in return toward de-

Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Eugene McCarthy, both candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination, stand side by side as they attend Wednesday's Poor People's Campaign demonstration. (AP Wirephoto)

New London Business Area Plan Work Starts Monday

Experts to Confer With Civic Leaders

NEW LONDON — Work on the comprehensive plan for downtown improvement will begin Monday by Max Anderson & Associates, Madison consulting-planning firm.

Representatives of the firm will be meeting with civic leaders to discuss community needs and learn what the community needs.

Surveys to determine economic stability and what the city business area offers with present facilities also will be made.

One of the first steps will be to define the central area to be included in the plan and study recommendations. The entire $7,000 cost of the plan will be carried by the city.

Detailed Plan

A $22,500 comprehensive development plan for the city up to 1985 didn't contain suggestions for downtown development. The initial study by a Chicago planning firm cost the city $7,500 and the federal government paid for the remaining portion.

City businessmen requested the more detailed plan for downtown development and will serve as consultants to the planning firm.

Any proposals and agreements must be cleared through the planning commission, however.

The plan will offer a comprehensive solution covering all phases of downtown development including recommendations for commercial, industrial and residential land uses, community facilities, traffic, parking and aesthetics as well as the various measures needed to carry out the plan.

Growth Factors

Anderson indicated the plan would be based on realistic market potentials relating future commercial space requirements, parking, street and highway capacities to forecasts of population, purchasing power, employment and other economic growth factors in the city and its trading area.

Other plan objectives are to the downtown area; preserve and strengthen the existing concentration of business; develop a feasible implementation program, and insure, to the fullest extent possible, the acceptance of all major development proposals by maintaining constant and close liaison with all major business and cultural groups, the city and its various departments.

The research will cover existing physical conditions, trends and projections; social conditions, and present economic activities.

Clintonville Man, 31, Fined $100 on Charge Of Disorderly Conduct

CLINTONVILLE — Edward A. Blank, 31, Madison Apartments, Clintonville, pleaded guilty to an amended charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $100 and costs Monday when he appeared in Municipal Justice Court.

Blank was arrested June 16 and charged with petty theft after removing a television set from a parked car. The charge was altered to disorderly conduct and he was instructed to make restitution.

Air Chilton Police Performance

Council Wants Press Ban

CHILTON — Police Chief Dan Albedyll's request that the press attend a joint meeting of the police and fire commission and city police was objected to Tuesday by the city council.

The joint session is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall.

At the June 4 council meeting, Mayor Harry Thompson called for the joint session because he felt too few speeding tickets were being issued.

13 Tickets

The mayor informed the council that 13 speeding violations were issued in May.

"This is ridiculous with four full-time policemen on the job," the mayor said at the June 4 session.

Albedyll, who was out of town when the comment was made, said he was getting repercussions from the incident.

Albedyll told the mayor, "I stopped a speeder from Sheboygan and he told me, 'Go ahead and issue the ticket because I see by the paper you have a quote,'" said Albedyll when recalling the Sheboygan man's comments.

The mayor denied ever having said that the police had a quota of arrests to meet.

"The men were expected to do their jobs," the mayor said. Albedyll wanted the news media representatives to attend the joint session "so that the public can be informed of the outcome."

However, Ald. Floyd Ammerman, 1st Ward, said, "too much is misconstrued. It gives a bad impression of the city."

Ald. Norbert Keuler, 4th Ward, concurred with Ammerman.

A statement on the outcome of the joint meeting would be issued, Ammerman said. "If there is anything important it will be released."

Testimony in Washington

Baldwin Hits Plan For Port Subsidies

Special to The Post-Crescent

WASHINGTON — Karl Baldwin, president of Air Wisconsin, called Wednesday for increased federal aid to airports served by airlines that are not subsidized.

Baldwin was here with a group of Air Wisconsin officials to testify at a hearing conducted by Oklahoma Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney's aviation subcommittee.

Officials of Air Wisconsin and other third-level (commuter) airlines gave their views on federal aid to airports not served by subsidized trunk and regional (feeder) airlines.

"The commuter airline," Baldwin told the subcommittee, "is a true air carrier which fulfills a public demand and might very well be the ultimate answer to the problem of airline subsidies."

"It follows, therefore," he stated, "that the administration plan which favors loans or grants almost exclusively to airports served by subsidized regional certificated carriers, with little or no financing for general aviation airports, is ill-conceived."

2 School Board Positions Open At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Two members of the school district board of education will be elected at the annual school meeting July 22. Polls will be open from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Longfellow School.

Candidates for the board must file a declaration of candidacy by July 2 with Mrs. George McCauley, district clerk. Terms are for three years.

The terms of Robert Stieg, who has served nine years, and Dr. Peter Oberhauser, who has served six years, expire this year. Both have indicated they will seek re-election.

Forged Checks From Iowa Bank 'Show Up' In Fox River Valley

Bank checks stolen from a Cedar Rapids, Iowa, family are "showing up" in the Fox Valley, Appleton detectives said today.

The forged checks, drawn on the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. of Cedar Rapids, are being cashed in both large and small amounts, detectives said. There could be as many as 20 checks out in this area, including Oshkosh.

Detectives asked that any merchants or individuals who have accepted the stolen checks contact their nearest police agency or district attorney of office immediately. The stolen checks bear the names of Ray H. or Minerva LeClerc. The checks were stolen from the LeClerc.

Both girls were taken to the Waupaca County Jail. One was at 7 p.m. Wednesday to the released to the custody of her Leonard Zuleger residence, Empress, where the other was held. Leonard Zuleger became the authorities of the Oregon School for Girls. She had not returned following a leave.

Jury Rules Negligence In Fatal Calumet Crash

Chilton Youth Driver in Accident That Killed Raymond Rusch in Town of Rantoul

CHILTON — A coroner's jury, after an hour's deliberation, ruled that J. Schmieder, that he recalled Wayne A. Miller, 18, route 1, nothing prior to or after the Chilton, was "operating a vehicle in a manner grossly indifferent to the welfare and safety of others" when the car was involved in a two-car crash that took the life of Raymond Rusch, 60, route 4, Chilton the evening of April 15.

Miller sustained a severe concussion and multiple cuts and bruises in the crash that occurred about 7:30 p.m. at the intersection of Irish Road and County Trunk E in the Town of Rantoul.

Recalled Nothing

Testimony revealed that Miller could remember nothing after he ate supper about 4:30 p.m. on the day of the accident.

Fred Martins, Calumet County traffic patrolman, one of the accident investigators and the first on the scene, said the Miller car was on its top, wrapped around a utility pole with the driver pinned inside. The Rusch vehicle was on its wheels to the right of the Miller auto with the left front door open and Rusch was lying behind the car.

Investigation showed the Rusch auto was traveling west on County Trunk E and the

Educator Defends Budget, Teacher Turnover Petition Hits Superintendent

MANAWA — A petition requesting a special meeting of the Little Wolf School District to discuss relieving Superintendent Russell P. Diehl from his duties, has been presented to Carl Prues, secretary of the board of education.

The petition containing five signatures was presented to Prues prior to the start of a June 11 board meeting by Barry Bishop, a district resident. The petition was not presented to the board during the regular meeting but was read after the meeting had been adjourned.

Since the presentation of the petition, board members have conferred with the board's attorney, Sigurd Krostue, New London, who has given the board an opinion. Board president E. K. Prather said the petition and Krostue's opinion will be introduced into the official board minutes at another special meeting which has been scheduled for June 25.

After a special meeting held here Tuesday, the board went into a meeting.

It also has been learned that in addition to the original petition, another is being circulated throughout the district. Petition circulators hope to have more than 300 names on this petition when it is presented to the board at the annual district meeting set for July 22, Bishop said.

It has been claimed that there is an unusually high number of teacher resignations. One claim has been made that 11 of 50 teachers have resigned. Diehl said this is not true. He went on to explain that there are 11 positions either filled or to be filled for the coming school year but three of these are newly created. Of the teachers who have resigned, some are leaving the teaching field and others have accepted positions in much larger school districts.

Signers of the petition, contacted this week, said they requested the special meeting because of an accumulation of grievances. One petitioner, who requested his name be withheld at this time, said there is unrest among faculty members. He said an attempt is being made to organize the teachers and Little Wolf District, the teacher turnover is not above average, Diehl said.

Another grievance cited by a petitioner was an approximate $300,000 increase in the proposed school budget. Diehl explained that there are no unnecessary expenditures in the new budget and the increase is not $300,000.

For the current year a $558,156 budget was approved but it was unrealistic and expenditures have already reached the $611,825 mark, Diehl said. In addition, the new budget includes $63,000 for teacher salary increases and another $150,000 for debt retirement on the present debt. The actual increase in the proposed budget over the current budget expenditures, other than the increases for debt retirement and salary, is only $16,240, Diehl explained.

The Little Wolf school district has already approved the construction of a $1.28 million high school and contracts for building are expected to be signed at the June 25 special meeting.

NEW LONDON — A 16-year-old, blonde, blue-eyed New London girl takes the first step toward the fulfillment of a dream today when she leaves for New York City.

Mary Kileen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Kileen, 1504 Algoma St., will only be in New York one day, as she leaves Friday on the second phase of the dream, a 10-day ocean trip to Rotterdam, Holland, and then a short train ride to Essen, Germany.

Essen will be her home during the next 3½ months as she becomes a member of the family of Dr. Frank Mlynck, an engineer. Mary is the first New London student to take part in the American Field Service "American Abroad" program.

New London has, during the past three years, had students from foreign lands attend school and make their home with a New London family under the Field Service Student Exchange program.

Home Upset

The Kileen home has been bedlam since Mary learned June 9 that she was one of these chosen to take part in the program this year. There have been telephone calls and visitors wishing her well on her journey and asking to remember them with a souvenir from Germany.

While on ship the American students will be given intensive language instruction by tutors.

Mary is leaning to a career in veterinary medicine, while her new German "sister" also favors a medical career.

While living with the Mlynck family, Mary will spend three weeks traveling in Germany on their vacation.

The vacation itinerary includes a trip to the Sauerland

(a rural area), Vienna, Austria, and to Munich, Essen, a city of about 750,000 persons, is a major industrial city in Germany.

Studied German

Mary said, "I didn't list a preference of a country where I wanted to go when applying last fall, but hoped that it would be Germany." Three years of German in the New London school system apparently paid their first dividend for her.

She will attend school in Germany during August — only because school starts earlier than in this country.

She will complete her senior year in New London after returning.

She will fly home from Germany about Sept. 1. During her stay she is limited to expenses of $5 a week.

Mary said this is to prevent the American Student from being another tourist sight-seeing rather than living with a family and learning more about the country.

Initial expense of the tour is paid by Mary's parents and the New London AFS Chapter. The New London Student Council also has contributed toward the expenses.

Open Housing the Law Since 1866

Much of the sound and fury about open housing legislation appears now to be mainly an exercise in polemics in the light of a recent Supreme Court decision. The court has held that a law passed by Congress back in Reconstruction Days, in 1866, outlaws racial discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing.

The 102-year-old law stated: "All citizens of the United States shall have the same right . . . as is enjoyed by white citizens . . . to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property." Justice Stewart in his majority opinion declared: "Congress meant exactly what it said."

In some respects the decision would go beyond the fair housing law passed by Congress this year. That law exempts owner occupied dwellings of four units or less, and the sales of individual homes without the services of a broker. The 1968 law will not become completely effective until 1970.

In other respects, though, the 1866 law did not cover certain transactions included in the 1968 enactment. It did not cover, for instance, discrimination on grounds other than race.

But the combination of the Supreme Court decision and the new federal law should render useless any future debate over state and local laws and ordinances. For open housing is now the law of the land.

What Is the Gun Lobby?

Much has been written in recent months about the credibility gap which exists between the government and the citizens, particularly the press, of this country. A recent statement by the president of the National Rifle Association, however, shows that there is more than one credibility gap.

The NRA is considered by many to be the strongest opponent of more stringent federal gun control. Its most potent weapon has been the ability to persuade many of its 900,000 members to write to their congressmen and senators. NRA officials have said in the past that they can depend upon their members to flood Capitol Hill with up to 500,000 letters within 72 hours.

Such a deluge of letters certainly is a constitutional and legitimate expression of opinion. It is a practice which proponents of strong federal gun control will have to use if they hope to persuade their legislators to back tighter control legislation. But what is bothersome is that NRA officials don't want to admit that their letter writing constitutes a lobby.

"All this talk about the gun lobby is baloney," NRA President Harold W. Glasen recently told the Associated Press. "We don't tell anyone to write to their congressmen."

Technically, Glasen may be correct. In every other sense, however, he is making himself and his organization look rather silly, for a letter he sent last week to NRA members stated: "Unless the sportsmen of America clearly express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen, individuals will be prohibited from acquiring long guns (rifles and shotguns) in interstate commerce and general firearms registration will become a reality." It would be interesting to check with NRA members to discover what they thought their president was suggesting by these words.

We feel the fears of the NRA are unfounded. We support stricter gun controls and registration. But we think the lines can be drawn much more clearly in this matter if the NRA closes its own credibility gap, stops using technicalities and admits to the methods which it uses to oppose such legislation. To do otherwise does not reflect well upon an organization which claims to be concerned with protecting a basic right of the American people.

More Cabinet Changes in Vietnam

The resignation of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky as head of South Vietnam's People's Self Defense Committee and the ouster of Phan Quang Dan as Cabinet Minister of State are two more signs of the shakiness of the regime of President Nguyen Van Thieu. But it is not at all unusual in Vietnam.

Vice President Ky's resignation reflected his opposition to President Thieu and was a sign that he had lost another round in the struggle of the two for power. The People's Self Defense Committee is aimed at giving rudimentary training and some arms to neighborhood and village groups to enable them to oppose the Viet Cong. After resigning, Vice President Ky has little now to do in the government except purely ceremonial representations such as saying good bye to General William Westmoreland. Associates of Ky have also recently been replaced, including the controversial Major General Le Nguyen Ngo Loan, formerly director of the national police.

The loss of Minister of State Phan Quang Dan may also be an improvement of position for President Thieu but it has narrowed the base of power for the government. Dan was the vice presidential candidate on a ticket with Phan Khac Suu which received about 11 per cent of the vote last fall and ran third in the election. When he was added to the cabinet only three weeks ago, the government could claim that it represented more than 50 per cent of the nation's voters although Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 13, 1868.

Reprinted from the Fond du Lac Reporter — While the Democrats and rebels are blowing about the respect with which Bates and his flag received in the South, they should not forget to state that on the evening of the 24th of February last, the rebels cut down the Stars and Stripes that were waving over the Republican headquarters in New Orleans.

Oh, that isn't anything new! In 1856, before the "Republican" party was two years old, the Republican rebels amused themselves by cutting down poles, flags and all in Wisconsin and other States. As Secession rebels and Republican rebels both agreed in hating the Union for years prior to actual hostilities, it is not at all wonderful that they should imitate each other's vice in most other respects.

But a new day is dawning, when vice will be condemned and virtue applauded, and when to be known as a Jacobin Radical will be considered tantamount to an accusation of crime or insanity.

On the Right
Charge That Greek Government
Uses Torture Not Substantiated

BY WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY
ATHENS, Greece — The most popular charge against the revolutionary government of Mr. Papadopoulos in Greece is that it maintains itself in power by the use of force and deals with its dissidents by torture. Concerning the first charge, there is no doubting the truth of it: there is no freedom in Greece today to agitate, let alone conspire, against the government. It was precisely because such freedoms, perversely used, had brought Greece to the brink of chaos in the spring of 1967 that the colonels acted. One would hardly suppose that having overthrown the Greek Constitution they would deprive themselves of the rationale for having done so by instantly resuming life as it was before.

On the matter of torture, the colonels are consistent, adamant, and categorical in their denials that torture has ever been an instrument of policy. Even so, the debate rages, and some of the very best of people are profoundly convinced that torture is endemic in Greece.

The most eloquent indictment is by a young lawyer in Massachusetts, in an unpublished article entitled "Athens by Day and Night." Mr. James Becket was associated with Mr. James Marreco, an Englishman, and together, they spent time in Greece in January of this year on behalf of Amnesty International, investigating the charges of torture. Both gentlemen came away convinced of the Junta's guilt, and the report by Amnesty International received wide publicity.

INVITED RED CROSS
The reaction of the Junta was to invite to Greece, to look into the charges, two of the famous "terrazas" at the police station on Bouboulinas Street in Athens. It was the contention of Becket-Marreco that that is the site where, regularly, the security police stretch out their victims across a divan, strap them down, and came them on the soles of their feet, China-style, until they collapse from the pain.

The Red Cross noted both the allegations and the expected denials, and observed that a) the terrace is surrounded on three sides by rented buildings that rise two or three floors higher than the alleged torture penthouse: hardly an arrangement conducive to security; b) the terrace furniture does not include such a divan as was depicted by the prisoners; and c) a prominent fixture of the terrace, minutely described by the alleged victims, a large open shower, was not mentioned by any one of them.

ISLAND DETENTION STATION
The British M.P.'s went to Leros, the island that serves as a detention station for the political dissidents — who, by the way, totalled 2,423 persons as of last March, when Mr. Andreas Papandreou was touring Europe insisting that "50,000 Greeks" were imprisoned.

It should be noted that the detention laws under which the prisoners are held were enacted by predecessor, democratic governments. Moreover, a substantial number of the detainees — as one must be careful to call them so as to distinguish them from convicted criminals — carry the key to their own jail doors, the promise not to engage in subversive political activity, which they decline to use. The British delegation went to Leros on the condition that its members be permitted to seek out any prisoners they chose, and talk to them through their own interpreter.

Only two charged that they had been tortured. "One prisoner," Mr. Gordon Bagier subsequently reported at a press conference, "Mr. Ambatzelos, had a scar on his foot. We are not in a position to know definitely nor to say that this was caused by ill treatment." But more significantly, Mr. Bagier added in behalf of himself and his colleagues, "I think it is fair to say in no circles have we yet found anyone, even in this camp, who was prepared to directly accuse the rulers, Mr. Papadopoulos and Mr. Pattakos, those who are in charge of the country, of directing any brutality or cruelty."

The case against the Junta is not sustained, as of this moment, by documented charges of torture as state policy.

Take, for instance, the case

Editor, The Post-Crescent:
Mr. Norlander, you say, "Shame, Shame, young Mr. Steiger wants only native born red-white-and-blue native capitalists to pick your pocket." Now surely, even bona fide Socialists must know that the first duties of this nation and congress are to secure and maintain the balance of trade; to protect our system of free enterprise, to protect the interests of all the people, capitalist and consumer, buyer and distributor, rich and poor, lazy and diligent, honorable and dishonorable. Under that flag of freedom, the same interest and freedom that protects our system of free enterprise, also protects people like Stokely Carmichael (who in the capitalistic country he hates so well manages to purchase a seventy thousand dollar mansion), H. Rap Brown, and Robert Norlander, all, who in the past and present have prostituted that freedom by preaching anarchy, desecration of the flag, and overthrow of the capitalistic system of government.

We, who live as you live, who eat as you eat, who work as you work, who thrive as you thrive, under this so-called degenerate capitalistic form of government, tolerate you, although the why of it sometimes would like to escape me. Those of you who find this system of government so intolerable, and so difficult to accept, seem to find it equally difficult to sever even one small tie that binds you to this nation. Why?

This is my country Mr. Nordlander, not always right, not always just, not always fair, not always equal to all, but nevertheless, my country. It is the only one I have or want "under God," under capitalism and under the red-white-and-blue. Thank God for Congressman Steiger and Capitalism! Thank God for the red-white-and-blue! Thank God for life in these United States!

Wiscinson Report
CCHE Not Achieving Coordination It Was Supposed to Control

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Reading between the lines of some of the principal speeches at the higher education conference at a resort in northern Wisconsin recently, the interested citizen must conclude that the state has not yet attained the integration and centralized direction of the immensely expensive tax-supported higher education system the legislature intended to achieve more than a decade ago.

There were the broadest of hints that the Coordinating Council for Higher Education, the instrument devised for a more efficient management of the proliferating higher education expenditure, does not realize the powers it was intended to have, or is unable or unwilling to exercise them.

SUGGESTS NEGATIVE POWER
Thus Harold Konnack of Racine, a hardheaded man who formerly served as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin, related his belief that the Council must have a negative as well as an affirmative power in discharging its duties as the top policy board in higher education.

This reporter has no desire to indulge in a dispute about statutory construction with Mr. Konnack, but is obliged to relate that if the Council does not now have such powers, then the legislature and the other sponsors of the integrated educational policy act did not achieve what they clearly and demonstrably intended.

But the chances are that Mr. Konnack was overstating his case, for the sake of emphasis, and for the purpose of warning that the ideal of central planning and policy control has not yet been achieved to the extent that the law intended, and the authors of the law, as well as those who later amended it, clearly declared they were trying to get.

COUNCIL HAS POWER
Surely the CCHE has the power to modify or curtail programs as well as to initiate or expand or otherwise enlarge the educational effort through its fundamental and unquestioned power of writing the higher education budget? Mr. Konnack suggested that the legislature may be asked to specify the Council's authority to get rid of outmoded, or duplicating, or otherwise unnecessary programs, in a time when the educational dollar will be increasingly difficult to levy in the face of endlessly growing demands for higher education from young people.

Such an act of the legislature might be useful, in its political impact upon the educational establishment, but it is not literally required. More likely the suggestion here is that the CCHE is not always performing, under its own initiative and through its existing powers, in the way that this thoughtful member believes is needed, and in a way that is its clear duty and responsibility.

CITES LACK OF COOPERATION
Another speaker also said some suggestive things at the Pigeon Lake conference of the publicly financed higher education hierarchy of Wisconsin. William E. White, associate director of the Council who came to his present job from the State University of Oshkosh, offered some plain talk about the reluctant cooperation among institutions.

Unless the institutions under the jurisdiction of the Council cooperate more willingly and effectively with it in its planning, the legislature will become impatient and take the matter into its own hands by creating another and perhaps less academically oriented ruling board, he warned.

Mr. White is reading the signs on the political horizon correctly, and it is the more surprising since he is a recent emigrant from the staff of one of the most ambitious of the institutions under the control of the board by which he is now employed.

ONE BOARD COULD COME
The legislature most recently showed its doubts about the Council by revising its membership to give majority control to civilians, in a manner of speaking. That was a clear expression of a conviction that majority control by the agents of the subject institutions was not working out as intended. Now a ranking officer of the central board acknowledges, in effect, that even with power in the hands of a majority of citizen members, the top educational board in the state is not yet functioning in the way that it should and in the manner that the law contemplated.

If such belief continues in high places, a total reorganization, with a single board of higher education, is quite conceivable as a legislative response.

Occupy Harris Today

BY SYDNEY HARRIS
It is ignorance of history that so often enrages us — how many person know, for instance, that those models of propriety and aristocracy, the British "public" schools (Eton, Harrow, and Winchester) were the scenes of such wild student riots in the 18th Century that the militia had to be called out to quell them?

Speaking of ignorance, it took a schoolchild to point out to me that it is not the peacock's "tail" that is so glorious, but its "train" — the colorfully spread feathers come from the back, not from the tail.

Society, and the law, should differentiate between crimes where are victims, and crimes without victims; in the latter cases, such as marijuana-smoking, there should be different procedures and punishments (if any) from crimes where there are victims.

It is the amount of "dreaming time" rather than "sleeping time" that is important to a person's health and welfare, for the brain "reprograms" itself during dreams; and those who need less sleep than others are peculiarly
